Proposed Preference Will Become Issue In Political Fight

Independent Liberal Wing Opens Its Campaign on the Question of Free Trade and Tampering With Food Prices at a Time of Unemployment—Sir Donald Maclean Met Scottish Federation

NEW MOVE DESCRIBED AS PROTECTION IN NEW NAME

LONDON, Oct. 11.—Sir Donald Maclean, one of the leaders of the Independent Liberal wing, opened the Liberal free trade campaign by presiding today at a record conference of the Scottish Liberal Federation, which opened at Perth and which the leader of the Independents, H. H. Asquith, will address tomorrow.

A Vital Issue
Sir Donald said the Imperial Conference preference developments had raised a vital issue. Preference was simply their old enemy—protection, disguised, and Liberals would give it no quarter. The conference at which four resolutions, all against tariffs, will be considered, marks the beginning of a flood of Liberal oratory planned months ago, which will be staged at more than 3,000 meetings.

Liberals United
Officials of the Liberal quarters at London today declared the Government's preference proposals would be fought with the whole force of the party. The Liberal newspapers are confident the nation will not tolerate tampering with food prices at a time when unemployment and distress are most acute and declare the Government's proposals may split the Conservative party.

They anticipate the women's vote. In the event of an election, would be overwhelmingly against food taxes.

Sir John Simon's Statement
"The preference on currants is a penal tax payable by every child eating a currant," said Sir John in the course of an interview on the Government's preference proposals.

The Free Trade Union addresses a letter to the overseas members of the Imperial Conference, reminding them of the conditions under which the Motherland adopted Free Trade, and emphasizing that the very existence of the Motherland depended on the continuance of the trade which the Great War vindicated in the most complete manner.

WAIT FROM DAWN TO SECURE TICKETS

In Effort to Secure Right to Hear Rt. Hon. Lloyd George Winnipeg Formed Line for Hours

WINNIPEG, Oct. 11.—Boxes, camp stools, cordwood and chairs were used as seats by the men and women who lined up long before the first streak of dawn before the Board of Trade offices here today to secure tickets for the Lloyd George address Saturday night.

Hundreds were in line shortly before 5 o'clock, and by 8:30, when the sale opened, it extended several blocks, and included thousands of admirers of Britain's wartime Premier. The line was a mile long.

Purchasers were limited to two tickets, but many were disappointed, and complaints were lodged that some must have received more than their share. These charges were denied by officials of the Canadian Club handling the seat sale, who said a committee of those who were unable to obtain tickets has been formed, and an investigation is demanded.

FRENCH CAVALRY DISPERSE GERMANS

More Than Three Thousand Unemployed in Düsseldorf Engaged in Plundering Until Scattered

DUSSELDORF, Oct. 11.—Demonstrations by the unemployed, some of a very threatening character, already have begun in the Ruhr as a result of the discharge of thousands of workers by the metal industries. The authorities here predict rioting and plundering unless something is done to relieve the plight of the workers.

One of the most serious situations thus far occurred late today in Düsseldorf, when more than 3,000 persons gathered around the town hall, and soon became so menacing that the French cavalry and armored cars which have been on duty since the reparations meeting of September 30, which resulted in bloodshed, were summoned hastily.

The use of force, however, was unnecessary.

New Slogan Attracts Attention to West

LONDON, Oct. 11.—Attention has been drawn by The Daily Mail that letters bearing this slogan are just arriving in London at an opportune moment, when the Dominion Premier are discussing the better distribution of the Empire's population.

Favor New State
MELBOURNE, Oct. 11.—Supporters are increasing in number for the movement to create a new state comprising the northern districts of New South Wales. They claim that twenty-one members of the Federal Parliament, including five Ministers, favor the proposal.

PREFERENCE BY TARIFF FAVORED

Economic Conference Committee Favors Tariff Extension Rather Than Subsidies to Inter-Empire Trade

SUGGEST TWO FORMS OF PREFERENTIALS

Hon. George P. Graham Expresses Canadian Objection to Asking British Taxpayer to Pay Dominion's Subsidy

LONDON, Oct. 11.—Two forms of Empire preference apart from tariff preference were discussed by a special committee of the Economic Conference today, namely:

(1) Subsidies where, required to British agriculture and to the Dominion producer, and
(2) Import licences to discriminate against foreign countries. Both were included in the five suggestions submitted by Premier Bruce to the conference on behalf of Australia.

No Formal Action
The committee did not reach any formal resolution on the proposals, but it seems unlikely the committee will formally recommend their adoption to the conference. There was considerable opposition to them as being difficult of operation, the Australian delegates, in fact, pointing out that they had merely been put forward as suggestions for consideration and as alternatives to tariff preference.

Advocate Tariff Preference
Stating the Canadian point of view, Hon. George P. Graham questioned the practicability of granting subsidies as proposed. He took the ground that it would not be fair to ask the British taxpayer to pay a subsidy to the Dominions, and that if any particular Dominion wished to grant a subsidy it should do so itself.

Mr. Graham argued that the best method of encouraging inter-Empire trade was not by means of subsidies or licensing foreign imports, both of which would be very difficult to apply, but by the extension of tariff preference. Under the Australian proposal as submitted to the committee, imports from foreign countries would be by way of licence, the foreign goods issued only when supplied from Empire sources were exhausted.

Germany Makes New Attempts At Negotiation

BERLIN, Oct. 11.—As the French and Belgian governments have declined to respond to the German offer to negotiate on the question of restoration of normal conditions in the Ruhr, the German representatives at Brussels and Paris, it is officially announced, have been instructed to renew their representations on this subject.

SEEKS STRINGENT IMMIGRATION LAWS

American Federation of Labor in Convention Decides to Turn Batteries on I.W.W. Operations

PORTLAND, Ore., Oct. 11.—More stringent immigration laws, with reduction in present quotas, will be sought from the sixty-eighth Congress, according to action taken by the American Federation of Labor convention here today.

Protest against importation of coal into Hawaii was voiced by the convention, which adopted resolutions. Resolving there was no labor scarcity in Hawaii that would justify introduction of coal labor. The executive council was instructed to turn the batteries of publicity on the I.W.W., who were alleged to be in the employ of interests seeking to destroy organized labor.

MAILED FIST ON CITY OF MUNICH

MUNICH, Oct. 11.—Munich is not the same old town it was since the mailed fist of Dictator von Kahr descended upon the social safety and the political existence of the native Bavarians. Two weeks of iron rule have reduced the populace to a state of apathy and politics to a condition of monotony, while von Kahr has a firm grip on the situation and showing no quarter to the Socialists and Communists, whose newspapers, placards and free speeches he has been throttling.

New Regime in China Ordered By Proclamation

PEKING, Oct. 11.—Provincial armies, which for centuries have thrived in China to the detriment of internal peace, are eliminated by the new constitution of the Chinese republic just promulgated.
The constitution provides for the replacement of provincial armies with a national army whose strength shall be determined by parliament. While the constitution gives wide latitude to the provinces in the matter of self-government, it stipulates that "no province shall keep any standing army or establish any military officers, army or armaments."
It is further directed that "the military expenses of the nation shall not exceed one-quarter of the national annual expenditure, except in the event of a foreign war."
President Tso Kuo, who was inaugurated yesterday, congratulated himself on having the constitution completed, and definite path for the conduct of affairs.

VICTORIA KEEPS MINISTER BUSY

MR. LAPOINTE CONTINUES CONFERENCE TODAY

Will Address Canadian Club and Play Golf in Afternoon—Leaves for North Tomorrow

Hon. Ernest Lapointe, Federal Minister of Marine and Fisheries, will be in the city this morning and during the day he will probably be able to make an announcement of the Dominion Government's intention regarding the various matters under discussion.
At the conclusion of the morning conference, Mr. Lapointe will address the Canadian Club at a luncheon to be held at the Empress Hotel, commencing at 12 o'clock noon. He will be introduced by Rev. W. Leslie Clay, D.D., president of the club.
In the afternoon Mr. Lapointe and Mr. B. H. Fryer, his chief engineer, will play Hon. John Hart, Minister of Finance, and Hon. T. D. Pattullo, Minister of Lands, in a foursome at the Oak Bay golf links.

It was stated last night that the minister would remain in Victoria until Saturday morning, when he and his party will leave for Anacortes via the Steamer Pacific. Mr. Lapointe's party will be made by way of the Grand Trunk Pacific section of the Canadian National Railways, and the steamer Princess Patricia is being chartered by his department. His department has already mapped out a tentative programme, and Mr. Alexander Johnston, Deputy Minister, will make the trip by foreign government ship, as the minister is forced to abandon owing to pressure of time.

The minister said that his department was giving consideration to the plan for the construction of buildings for the accommodation of local departmental officials.
Prior to his conference with the Cabinet yesterday morning Mr. Lapointe conferred with Mr. Pattullo regarding foreshore and harbor matters.

This morning, in addition to seeing the Provincial Government again, he will discuss the affairs of the Victoria Shipowners (B.C.), Ltd., with their representatives.
This afternoon there will be a conference between Mr. Lapointe and Mr. William Ivel, Victoria representative of the national Liberal organization.

UNITED STATES HAS DUTY TO PERFORM

Rt. Hon. Lloyd George Says Same High Debt Owed to America as on British or France

NIAGARA FALLS, Ont., Oct. 11.—Rt. Hon. Lloyd George was a visitor to the Canadian and United States cities of Niagara Falls today en route to the West. He had no public engagements, but his program about was greeted by cheering crowds.

Shown an editorial in a New York newspaper discussing Allied debts and reparations, Lloyd George declared that the debt owed by foreign governments to the United States constituted a bond signed by the Allies.
"Reparations," he added, "are a different matter; there you have a sum to be paid." Under the Versailles treaty, he continued, the amount was to be fixed by the reparations commission. It was the duty of the United States to act as much as Great Britain or France, but the United States failed to ratify the treaty, he pointed out, and the situation was thereby changed.

ONTARIO'S FRUIT WINS IN BRITAIN

LONDON, Oct. 11.—Interest has been aroused in the fruit trade here by the first experimental consignment of Ontario peaches to this country by Niagara Peninsula growers. About 4,000 cases of peaches have arrived at Southampton in good condition.

The office of the Agent-General for Ontario informs the Canadian Press that the experiment of shipping peaches to Great Britain has been fairly successful and worth continuing.

Children Killed by Train
AKRON, Ohio, Oct. 11.—Eight children were killed and three others and one man seriously injured this morning when a train struck a horse-drawn school bus on a grade crossing.

WILL NOT PRESS FOR PREFERENCE

Attitude of Canada at Empire Conference Indicates Dominion Has No Desire to Insist on Extension

MATTER ENTIRELY ONE FOR GREAT BRITAIN

British Traders Affected by Proposals Assume Critical Attitude—Might Mean More Idle British Workers

LONDON, Oct. 11.—What attitude the Canadian representatives will take when the British offer of increased preference comes before the Economic Conference again on Tuesday next is now being seriously considered.

The attitude of the Canadian delegates as stated in conference was that Canada had no desire to appear in the guise of pressing the British Government to extend preference. It was added that she would welcome any extension, but the matter was entirely one for Great Britain. In reply to this the British Government has stated in effect that its offer was only submitted as a basis for discussion in which the Dominions might care to suggest.

Counter Suggestions Welcomed
The British Government, so the Dominion representatives have been informed, would not in any way congratulate for counter suggestions to be made. As a result, it is now considered quite likely that the Canadian representatives will make some suggestion. In this connection preference on natural products is mooted, but no decision has yet been reached. The matter probably will be considered at a round table conference of Canadian ministers and their technical advisers before the Canadian attitude is finally determined.

British traders who will be affected by the preference proposals adopted a critical attitude. Charles Lyle, of Tait & Lyle, sugar refiners, declares that if a further preference is given on refined sugar it will mean more unemployment in the British sugar refinery. He urges that Great Britain should follow the Canadian method and give a preference to high-grade sugar only when imported for further refining.

Dried Fruit Trade
R. A. Caraman, the chairman of the London dried fruit trade association, claims that the Mediterranean and curricula always have an advantage over Dominion produce as owing to the seasons, they arrive in better condition for Christmas market.

Algeron Aspinall, secretary of the West India Committee Imperial College of Tropical Agriculture, however, estimated that there should be room in Great Britain for 1,600,000 tons more of Empire sugar than at present available.

The effects of a stabilized preference on the British sugar industry should be far reaching, he asserts.

Pictures Results of League With States

Rt. Hon. Lloyd George Tells Newspapermen That Such an Alliance Could Impose National Peace Upon the World—Believes Such a Condition Is Coming

S. T. CATHARINES, Ont., Oct. 11.—"If the United States and Great Britain were in league to impose national peace upon the world, it would be the greatest thing that could happen," Rt. Hon. David Lloyd George declared to newspapermen in an interview in his private car today.

HOW AUSTRALIA VIEWS PREFERENCE

Keen Interest Has Been Aroused, According to Press Comments on Premier Bruce's Speech

MELBOURNE, Australia, Oct. 11.—Premier Bruce's speech at the Imperial economic conference in London has aroused keen interest in political and commercial circles in Australia. The Argus says Great Britain, in her offer of extended preference does not commit herself to shutting out foreign products or sacrificing her agricultural population by varying her policy in a manner which will assist migration and foster the Imperial defence scheme.

The Sydney Evening News, which is a vigorous champion of Free Trade, says that no British government could make the British people pay more for their meat or bread, which Premier Bruce desires, and survive an election.

FLYING BOAT MEETS QUICK END IN NORTH

SASKATOON, Oct. 11.—While alighting on glazy water, in the Pas district of northern Manitoba, the Forestry Department's Curtiss flying-boat OCEYED was wrecked, and two motorboats and a canoe were demolished. The surface was deceptive and the flyingboat "bumped" instead of skimming the water. No one was injured.

LEAGUE OF NATIONS GIVEN ENDORSEMENT

Earl Curzon Makes Before Imperial Conference Statement Covering Political Developments That Followed Dispute Between Italy and Greece and the Crisis That Was Created as a Result of It

Each Government Ready To Give Full Support

LONDON, Oct. 11.—The Imperial Conference met today in the morning and afternoon. Earl Curzon, Foreign Secretary, opened the sessions with a statement of the political developments as a result of the Janina murders which brought on the recent Italo-Grecian crisis.

Lord Robert Cecil followed with an address on the League of Nations, dwelling in detail on the developments arising from the dispute between Italy and Greece.

Support to League

There was some criticism expressed in the subsequent discussion, it was understood, but the general tenor of the proceedings was an indication of the strongest desire on the part of each government represented at the Imperial Conference to give the fullest support to the League of Nations.

The Canadian viewpoint expressed was that as regards European affairs the League was the best agency for whatever mediation might be necessary. Sir Lomer Gouin warmly thanked Lord Robert Cecil for his assistance at the Geneva Assembly in regard to the Canadian objection to article ten of the League covenant.

Article Ten
Sir Lomer outlined the possibility of the Canadian opposition to the article in its original form, remarking that the Right Hon. C. J. Doherty, former Minister of Justice, had originally only accepted the article under reserve. He added that the interpretive clause meeting the Canadian objection to the original article and submitted to the recent assembly of the League, might be considered as having been accepted by the various nations in view of the fact that only Persia had voted against it.

When the Imperial Conference meets again on Monday the Marquis of Salisbury, the Lord President of the Council, will initiate the discussion on Empire defence. Lord Salisbury's statement will deal, it is expected, with defence generally.

Colonel L. C. Amery, First Lord of the Admiralty, will subsequently deal with the problem of naval defence.

OFFICIALLY GREET FEDERAL MINISTER

SPEAKERS STRESS NEED OF UNITY DEVELOPMENT

Premier Oliver and Mr. M. A. Macdonald Extend Official Welcome to Hon. Ernest Lapointe

Brief, and in many particulars to the point, were two introductory addresses given at the Royal Victoria Theatre last night by Hon. John Oliver, Premier of British Columbia, and Mr. M. A. Macdonald, K.C., M.P., of Vancouver, president of the Provincial Liberal Association, preceding the splendid address given by Hon. Ernest Lapointe, Minister of Marine and Fisheries in the Federal Cabinet. The speakers were presented to the audience by Mr. William Ivel, of Victoria.

Hon. Mr. Oliver, the first speaker, prefaced his remarks with an official welcome to Hon. Mr. Lapointe on behalf of the residents of the Capital City and the Province of British Columbia. Hon. Mr. Oliver asserted that the Federal Minister of Marine and Fisheries was an outstanding figure in Canadian national life and affairs, and he saw a great similarity between the two.

TRAINMEN KILLED BY ARMED BANDITS

Blowing Up Cars as They Entered Tunnel Wreck Was Complete—No Loot Obtained

HILTS, Cal., Oct. 11.—Two bandits who boarded the southbound Southern Pacific San Francisco express as it entered a tunnel near here, killed three trainmen, stopped the train and threw a bomb into the mail car, killing the mail clerk and wrecking the car. Four of the cars were so badly damaged they could not move out of the tunnel. The explosion wrecked the mail car so completely that no loot was obtained by the bandits, who escaped.

Railway employees said they saw two men board the train just as it entered the tunnel. It is believed that the bandits either were railroad employees or former railroad men, and killed the trainmen when they were recognized. Then they stopped the train and went back to the mail car, which had been barricaded by the clerk, who refused to let the bandits enter. Attempting to force an entrance, they threw the explosive through a window, wrecking the car.

FAMOUS GERMAN ESTATE IN COURT

Activities of Alvo von Alvensleben Recalled in Application Made Before Judge in Vancouver

VANCOUVER, Oct. 11.—The activities here ten years ago of Alvo von Alvensleben were recalled in supreme court Wednesday, when an application was heard by Mr. Justice Morrison in the defendant company bearing the German's name.

On behalf of R. Kerr Hougarty, liquidator of Alvo von Alvensleben, Ltd., since October, 1914, Mr. Joseph Finger asked the court to sanction payment of remuneration to the liquidator of $455 and to his solicitors of $303.

The suitable, although in bad shape, has entailed considerable work and trouble, he said. There were about $3,000,000 of debts, while the assets have turned out to be practically nil.

According to the liquidator, there is little likelihood of anything more being realized out of the estate. Judgment was reserved.

Okanagan Fruit Movement Under Way

VERNON, B.C., Oct. 11.—During the last ten days of September nearly 700 cars of fruit left the Okanagan. This was less than a dozen cars behind the shipment for the same period last season. A week ago Sunday 104 cars left the Valley, which is a record for this year.

During the past few days the fruit movement has not been so heavy, but this is to be expected as the later varieties are not rushed to market as fast as some of the season's first apples.

EMPIRE DEFENCE TO COME FORWARD

IMPERIAL CONFERENCE PREPARING FOR DISCUSSION

Foreign Policy Matters Expected to Conclude the Week So as to Reach Great Question

LONDON, Oct. 10.—The main Imperial Conference today returned to the consideration of Great Britain's foreign policy. Lord Robert Cecil this morning spoke on the League of Nations.

An endeavor is being made to conclude the discussion on the foreign policy this week so as to prepare the way for a discussion on Empire defence. Owing to the ceremony of the conferring of the freedom of London on Premier Mackenzie King and Premier S. M. Bruce, tomorrow, it is not likely there will be a sitting of the conference on Friday.

Preliminary to the discussion of British preference and financial proposals in detail by the Economic Conference experts of the various Dominion representations are now engaged in analysis of these matters.

Canada's Position

Among the members of the Canadian representation yesterday's offer of financial co-operation in development schemes is not regarded as likely to be utilized to any great extent by Canada. The conditions attached to the proposal, it is thought, will be difficult. One of these conditions is indicated generally to the conference by Sir Philip Lloyd-Graeco, president of the Board of Trade, is that orders in connection with the statements are to be placed in Great Britain. Such a condition, it is claimed, would mean that Canadian manufacturers able to fill the orders would have no advantage. Attention here at the present time, however, is chiefly drawn to the British Government's offer of increased preference and the more sweeping proposals of Premier Bruce, of Australia.

The free traders are uncompromising in their opposition to Premier Bruce's suggestion of tariff on foodstuffs and they are equally opposed to the Baldwin government's preference proposals. These they term an additional tax on the already overburdened English housewife.

COMES TO DEFENCE OF AMERICAN TARIFF

It is Contended That Canadian Growers Would Otherwise Flood the United States Market

WASHINGTON, Oct. 11.—The Republican National Committee, in a statement today, defends the United States wheat tariff. It declared United States wheat since the emergency tariff of 1921 have received more for their grain than Canadian growers.

It charges that United States millers would be the winners by the removal of the wheat tariff, as they would thus get Canadian hard wheat at a lower figure. It also declares Canadian grain would flood this country after lake navigation closes if there were no tariff.

Senators Phipps and Adams, of Colorado, have received formal protest from the Denver Livestock Exchange against lowering the tariff on cattle in order to admit cattle from Canada.

DR. BANTING HAS GREATER FIND

HAMILTON, Ont., Oct. 10.—Dr. F. G. Banting, discoverer of insulin, within the next few weeks will announce another discovery of even greater importance than the diabetes cure, Hon. Dr. Forbes Godfrey, Minister of Health for Ontario, announced here tonight at a dinner of medical men.

"Dr. Banting is a real genius," said the speaker. "He has now something better than insulin to offer the world. It is a marvelous thing, but I am not at liberty to make further mention of it. Dr. Banting has about completed his new discovery, and announcement will be made very soon."

NEW YORK WORLD OFFERS COMMENTS

Proposal Relative to Preference in Dried Fruits Viewed From United States Standpoint

NEW YORK, Oct. 10.—Termining the commitment of the British Government to a broader policy of imperial preference, "Britain's reply to Fordney-McCumberism," The World predicts that the decision announced to the imperial conference in London will be viewed seriously by producers in the United States. The British Government offered to admit duty free dried, preserved and canned fruits from the Dominions and to increase the tariff preference on sugar and tobacco.

This action, The World says, is of very practical importance to the United States, and that it appears to be only a beginning, "but as beginning it will not be heard with pleasure on the Pacific coast or in the best sugar States or throughout the tobacco growing regions of the United States, which its significance is viewed with complacency by the Western wheat growers already suffering from shrinking foreign markets, or the cattle feeders or other producers of export products."

The British Empire, The World adds, is merely engaged in following the example of those who wrote the present United States tariff. It predicts that the British Empire will retaliate if further prohibitory tariffs are raised in the United States and hints that the United States would be the loser in the long run.

"Canada alone," the newspaper concludes, "is already in the way of seeing that British bread consumers do not suffer from the exclusion of American foodstuffs."

MR. LLOYD GEORGE LEAVES FOR WINNIPEG

Distinguished Visitor Speaks Along Route—Is Anxious to Meet Strangers on Journey

TORONTO, Oct. 11.—Arrangements have been completed whereby Right Hon. David Lloyd George and his party will leave here shortly after 10 o'clock tonight for Winnipeg.

This part of the journey will be made over the Canadian Pacific, and the distinguished visitor will have an opportunity to see the picturesque part of North Ontario around the north shore of Lake Superior.

Several stops will be made on the way, where the inhabitants will be enabled to see and perhaps hear the great statesman.

It is likely that among the places so favored will be Chapleau, Cartier, White River and Kenora.

Mr. Lloyd George has expressed a wish that he should meet a few men well informed on the country's industrial and agricultural matters, particularly in connection with the country through which he is passing, and several representative men will join him at various points along the line.

From Winnipeg the train will go to Emerson, Man., where they will commence the American tour over the Soo Line to Minneapolis.

Mr. Lloyd George and party spent this morning quietly at Government House. At 11:15 a.m. the party left for Niagara Falls. En route, the Canadian National train, aboard which they traveled, stopped for ten minutes at Hamilton to enable Lloyd George to speak at the station in the assembled crowd. A brief stop was made at St. Catharines for a similar purpose.

Great Dictator

WINNIPEG, Oct. 11.—The rise of Socialism in England was referred to as a striking event in his parliamentary career by Lord Birkenhead, former Lord Chancellor, in an address here last night.

The speaker predicted that if the time ever came when the Labor party gained sufficient power and attempted to put its "red doctrine" into practice there would be an upheaval of the whole English people in an exhibition of their traditional common sense.

DECREASING TARIFF INTERESTS CANADA

CANADIAN EXPORTS WILL BE BENEFITED

For Past Twelve Months Total of Outward Shipments Will Show Considerable Increase

OTTAWA, Oct. 11.—The proposed offer of increased preference to the Dominions as announced on Tuesday at the Economic Conference in London, will particularly interest Canadian producers of canned fruits and of tobacco.

For the twelve months ended August, 1923, exports of Canadian canned fruit to the United Kingdom were valued at $322,842. For the previous twelve months, exports of canned fruit to the United Kingdom amounted to $1,004,952. Canadian exports of tobacco to the United Kingdom for the twelve months ended August, 1923, were $247,376, as against $216,031 for the twelve months ended August, 1922.

SAYS GOVERNMENT MUST OBEY REPORT

Mr. David Whiteside, M.P., Main-land Part of P.E.I. Must Be Scrapped to Save Loss

Operation of the Pacific Great Eastern Railway can never be placed on a sound economic basis until the Provincial government pays some heed to the recommendations submitted last year by Mr. J. G. Sullivan, eminent engineer, and other experts who reported on the P. E. G. project, according to Mr. David Whiteside, Liberal member for New Westminster, who arrived in Victoria yesterday to attend to some departmental business.

"Unless the government intends to tie itself up with an enterprise that cannot be expected to return a profit for many years to come, it will abandon the Clinton-Squamish line and connect Clinton with Ashcroft on the main line of the C. P. R.," said Mr. Whiteside. "Construction from Queen's to Prince George would, in my opinion, be premature. Motor trucks should be able to give a satisfactory freight service between Queen's and Prince George under present conditions. If a railway is built down from the Peace River country, the situation naturally becomes very different."

Mr. Whiteside said that New Westminster was not seriously afflicted with the so-called beer club menace, and that he believed the majority of people were satisfied with the Liquor Control Act as it stands.

The New Westminster member has acted as chairman of the Municipal Committee of the Legislature and he said that he anticipated only minor amendments to the present municipal legislation relating to financial relief.

UNEMPLOYMENT IN IRELAND THE CASE

Shortage of Work in Case in Situation in Old Country—Strike Effects Cause Trouble

DUBLIN, Oct. 11.—Speaking in the Dail yesterday, President Cosgrave referred to the serious conditions resulting from labor troubles in Ireland and asserted that one of the chief obstacles to an improvement in the situation was the tie-up in the ports. This, he said, had had a bad effect on all trades and until the shipping centres were reopened a complete settlement would be impossible.

Among the other serious effects of the strike is the shortage of drugs, a situation which is causing the hospitals considerable inconvenience. There are rumors that some of these institutions may have to close, anyway, it seems likely that operations will have to be performed without anaesthetics.

Supreme Court Gives Judgment to Plaintiffs

VANCOUVER, Oct. 11.—Judgment was handed down in Supreme Court today by Mr. Justice Murphy in the case of the Gregory Tire & Rubber Company against Morton Gregory and his associates, ordering the return by Mr. Gregory and his partners of $180,000 in cash and $420,000 in stock to the company.

Mr. Justice Murphy, in a fifteen-page judgment, held that there was misrepresentation on the part of Gregory about his knowledge of chemistry and the extent of his knowledge of the rubber business, and that this misrepresentation led to the fraud. Co-defendants with Mr. Gregory in the action were A. E. Braden, S. J. Claridge, J. A. Cunningham, J. Munroe Sutherland and Mr. McGliven.

Failure of Allied Strategists to Realize War as Whole Resulted in Eastern and Western Schools of Military Thought, and Was Prolific Parent of Many Disappointments, Says Mr. Churchill

ARTICLE 5—THE DARDANELLES ADVENTURE AND THE 29TH DIVISION

FEBRUARY 16 was a day of resolve. At a meeting of the principal ministers on the war council, including the prime minister, Lord Kitchener and myself, the following decisions, eventually incorporated in the decisions of the war council, were taken:

(1) The 29th Division to be despatched to Lemnos, the nearest possible date, preferably within nine or ten days.
(2) Arrangements to be made to send a force from Egypt, if required.
(3) The whole of the above forces, with the Royal Marine battalions already despatched, to be available in case of necessity to support the naval attack on the Dardanelles.
(4) Horse-boats to be taken out with the 29th Division, and the Admiralty to make arrangements to collect small craft, tubs and lighters in the Levant.
A fifth decision authorised the Admiralty to build special transports and lighters suitable for the conveyance and landing of the above forces. The Dardanelles Commission, "been definitely decided to use troops on a large scale, but they were to be massed so as to be in readiness should their assistance be required. On this day Admiral Carden was informed that Mudros Harbor could be used by him as a base, and Rear-Admiral Wemyss was appointed as senior naval officer there. In the evening of the 16th, in pursuance of the decisions which had been taken, I directed Admiral Oliver, chief of the war staff, to have transports collected with the utmost speed for the 29th Division, and he issued orders to this effect on the same day. The resolve to concentrate at the Dardanelles, carried with it acceptance of the possibility of using it in certain eventualities. But these were not as yet defined.

Conflicting Pressures on Kitchener. During the 17th it appeared that great pressure was being put upon Lord Kitchener from General Headquarters not to divert the 29th Division from France. In fact, as has been justly observed by the official naval historian, the use of the 29th Division became a cardinal issue between what were beginning to be called in our secret circles "The Western" and "The Eastern" policies. Lord Kitchener became the prey of these contending influences, and he was plunged into a state of most painful indecision between them.

So far, not a shot had been fired at the Dardanelles, but we were on the eve of the attack on the outer forts. When we met in council again on the 19th, it became clear that Lord Kitchener had changed his mind. He informed us that he had received the despatch of the 29th Division to the East. He gave as his reason the dangerous weakness of Russia and his fear of a large massing of German troops should be brought back from the Russian front to attack our troops in France. I cannot believe that this argument had really weighed with him. He must have known that, apart from all other improbabilities, it was physically impossible for the Germans to transfer great armies from Russia to the French front under two or three months at the very least, and that the 29th Division—single division—could not affect the issue appreciably if they did so. He used the argument to fortify a decision which he had arrived at after a most painful heart-searching on other and general grounds.

The council bowed to Lord Kitchener's will, though his wishes and opinions were unaltered. It was decided to postpone the departure of the 29th Division, but the Admiralty was instructed nevertheless to continue the preparation of transports for it and other troops. On the 20th I ministered to the director of transports: "All preparations are to be made to embark the 29th division with the least possible delay. The despatch of this division is not, however, finally decided."
The 20th was a day of recoil. Lord Kitchener had refused to send the 29th division. He even seemed opposed to any large concentration of troops in the East. "The French," he wrote to me (February 20), "are in a great way about so many troops being employed as you told them I have just seen Grey and hope we shall not be saddled with a French force."
The council bowed to Lord Kitchener's will, though his wishes and opinions were unaltered. It was decided to postpone the departure of the 29th Division, but the Admiralty was instructed nevertheless to continue the preparation of transports for it and other troops. On the 20th I ministered to the director of transports: "All preparations are to be made to embark the 29th division with the least possible delay. The despatch of this division is not, however, finally decided."

My Memorandum of Feb. 25

On February 25 I had prepared an appreciation of the general situation and I had used this to argue from in the war council of the 26th. It was now printed and circulated to the Prime Minister, the Chancellor of the Exchequer and Mr. Balfour. I reprint it now as it explains my position more clearly than any other document of this period.

(Appreciation)
1. Russia.—We must not expect Russia to invade Germany successfully for many months to come. But though the Russian offensive is paralyzed, we may count on her not only maintaining a successful defensive, but effectively containing and retaining very large German forces on her front. There is no reason to believe that Germany will be able to transfer to the west anything like 1,000,000 men at any time; nor any how that German forces, large enough to influence the situation can arrive in the west before the middle of April.

2. The Anglo-French line in the west are very strong and cannot be turned. Our position and forces in France are incomparably stronger than at the beginning of the war, when we had opposed to us nearly three-fourths of the first line of the German army. We ought to welcome a German assault on the large-scale possible scale. The chances of repulsing it would be strong in our favor; and even if its success necessitated retirement to another line, the superior losses of the Germans would afford good compensation. The issue in the west in the next three months ought not to cause anxiety. But, anyhow, it is not an issue which could be decisively affected by four or five British divisions.

3. For us the decisive point, and the only point where the initiative can be seized and maintained, is in the Balkan peninsula. With proper military and naval co-operation, and with forces which are available, we can make certain of taking Constantinople by the end of March, and capturing or destroying all Turkish forces in Europe (except those in Adrianople). This blow can be struck before the fate of Serbia is decided. Its effect on the whole of the Balkans will be decisive. It will eliminate Turkey as a military factor.

Troops Available

4. The following military forces (at least) are available immediately:
In England—29th Division... 36,000
Another Territorial Division—Under orders for Lemnos: R. N. Division... 12,000
From Egypt: Two Australian Divisions... 39,000
French Division (say)... 20,000
Russian Brigade (say)... 8,000

Total... 115,000

5. All these troops are capable of being concentrated within striking distance of the Bosphorus by March 21 if they are given now. If the naval operations have not succeeded by then, they can be used to attack the Gallipoli peninsula and make sure that the fleet gets through. As soon as the Dardanelles are open, they can either (a) operate from Constantinople to extirpate any Turkish forces in Europe; or (b) if Bulgaria comes in at our invitation to occupy up to the Kresna-Melia line, they can proceed through Salonika to the aid of Serbia; or (c) if Bulgaria is merely confirmed in a friendly neutrality, Bulgaria comes in, they can proceed through Salonika to the aid of Serbia. W. S. C. February 25, 1915.

And on the 27th: "I must now put on record my opinion that the military force provided, viz., two Australian divisions supported by the nine naval battalions and the French division, is not large enough for the work it may have to do; and that the absence of any British regular troops will, if fighting occurs, expose the naval battalions and the Australians to undue risk."

"Even if the navy succeed unaided in forcing the passage, the weakness of the military force may compel us to forego a large part of the advantages which would otherwise follow." (To Be Continued.)

HON. W. C. NICHOL AT ROTARIAN LUNCHEON

Tells Club of Elements That Go to Make Newspaper Success—Miss Lillian Burkhardt Speaks

Good judgment is the essential element in running a newspaper successfully. Lieut.-Governor Walter C. Nichol, until recently publisher and sole proprietor of The Vancouver Province, told members of the Rotary Club yesterday while addressing their luncheon meeting on the subject of "Journalism."

"The difference between two newspapers in a single community is more probably one of judgment than anything else," he said. "The executives of one paper—the more successful paper—simply see the possibilities of news that are ignored or neglected by the others, and their insight and intelligence are rewarded by the success of their paper in scoring a series of triumphs over the rival. A succession of such triumphs sooner or later establishes the paper's reputation for speed in getting the news and reliability, and such a reputation once gained is not easily lost."

Mr. Nichol referred to the management of modern newspapers as "a vast field of opportunity before the captain of the ship, saying that the standing of the newspaper in the community largely depended on the managing editor's individual initiative and judgment."

The reporters, the men who go out and get the news and write it, have a vast field of opportunity before them, and the captain of the ship, according to Mr. Nichol.

"These young men earn anywhere from fifty to a hundred dollars a week, and many of the star men in the larger cities on the coast get $200 or more a week," he said. "Their work prepares them for a successful career in many lines, as well as in journalism."

"Study Your Field"
To those who contemplated the establishment of a newspaper, the Lieut.-Governor offered a word of advice.

"Study your field carefully and know it thoroughly," he said. "Many newspapers are wrecks before they are started, simply because the man behind them made no intelligent study of the conditions they would have to meet."

He instanced the phenomenal development of the tabloid picture newspaper, an example of which was The Los Angeles Illustrated News, a daily started in the California metropolis recently by Mr. Cornelius Vanderbilt, Jr., and already having a circulation of 145,000. While some of the ideals originally set for that newspaper were regarded by Mr. Nichol as somewhat utopian, he predicted a rich future for the paper, because it served a rapidly growing field that no attempt had been made to satisfy in just that way before.

Miss Lillian Burkhardt, who is appearing in a play at the Pantages Theatre this week, gave a short address in which she compared the works of some of the leading actors of the past and present. While admitting that most of the great actors were commercial first, last and all the time, she held up Sir Henry Irving as the sparkling example of the dramatist who kept the theatre pure and who loved his art; who took glory not for himself but for his craft.

Miss Burkhardt gave a dramatic impersonation of Mme. Nadimova before concluding.

The Lieut.-Governor presented Rotarians Vincent Martin and Cliff Denham with the club's golf trophies.

Mr. Denham appealed to the members to patronize the Shrine's Ball at the Drill Hall tonight.

SUSPEND SHIPMENTS UNTIL STRIKE OVER

Mr. D. C. Coleman, of C.P.R., Announces Grain Will Not Be Sent Westward Temporarily

WINNIPEG, Oct. 11.—A temporary suspension of all grain shipments from the Western Provinces to Vancouver over Canadian Pacific lines owing to the longshoremen's strike was announced by Mr. D. C. Coleman, vice-president of Western lines, here today. In a statement today, Mr. Coleman said:

"The suspension restrictions will be enforced until it is established loading can be freely made from elevators to steamers. There is sufficient grain in the elevators and in transit to provide cargoes for all vessels in port or in sight. Just as soon as it is established that inbound shipments can be taken care of without danger of congestion and delay of equipment, shipments will be resumed."

Would Pass Cost On to the Public

MONTREAL, Oct. 10.—If the Canadian railroads are forced to pay the maintenance-of-way men increased rates of pay demanded, and involving approximately from four to four and three-quarter million dollars per annum, there will be no alternative but to pass on such expenditure to the public in higher freight rates, which is not desirable at a time when there is need for a settled condition, explained Mr. George Hodge, assistant general manager of the C. P. R. Eastern lines, before the board of conciliation here today. The board is dealing with the application of the employees for an increase in wages of five cents an hour all round.

PUBLIC SHARE IN BIG JUBILEE CAKE

DAVID SPENCER, LTD., HONTS TO IMMENSE CROWD

Through Attended Dispensing of the the Seventeen Hundred Pound Piece of Confectionery

Victoria was yesterday a city of cake-eaters. Bread lines are a common phenomena in metropolitan centres, but to David Spencer, Ltd., goes the distinction of having staged the first "cake line." From ten o'clock yesterday morning to five in the afternoon over 4,000 Victorians regaled themselves with complimentary cake and tea in honor of the golden jubilee of the popular department store.

The elevators were unable to handle the crowd that thronged the store. But no complaint was raised at this. The people gladly walked. It was superfluous to ask where the magnificent 1,700-pound masterpiece of the confectioners' art was being demolished. One had only to join the steady stream of people that flowed up the main stairways and debouched on a second main of humanly eagerly waiting for entrance to the restaurant improvised for the occasion on the second floor.

Miss Duff, one of the oldest employees of the store, officiated at the cutting of the cake; and later the genial "Dave" Spencer himself presided at the function, directing operations and receiving the felicitations of his guests.

An air of good-natured excitement characterized the scene. Everywhere there were smiles and expressions reminiscent of larking schoolboys.

"Can I have a piece to send to my husband, please?" was asked of a waitress by one of the first ladies to enter. "He's up in Alaska," she added in explanation.

"My husband is on strike—can I bring him a piece?" was the naive request of some thrifty wife—one of the striking longshoremen, apparently.

There was a touch of pathos, too, when one mother, obviously troubled, explained that she had just left her sick child in hospital, and that the youngster had commissioned her not to return without a piece of Spencer's Jubilee Cake.

There was a remarkable absence of men. Only one or two were noticed during the whole day. Women predominated. And one of the factors influencing their desire to enjoy the hospitality of the store was undoubtedly curiosity as to what the interior of the cake looked like, as well as tasted like. But this was exaggerated, as some entered the store, as to the possibility of cooking the centre of so huge a cake thoroughly. And once or twice, "I told you so—it was cooked first in many small pieces," was heard from those who gazed at the process of its dissection.

Only about half the cake had been consumed at the close of the day. There will thus be many small pieces today's anticipated crowd of guests, and in all probability there will still be some to be dispensed on Saturday, when the access of the city will be delighted with things so dear to their dreams.

MAKING IT BIT WARM FOR PUGET HI-JACKER

Efforts Being Made by Provincial Police to Secure Extradition of Liquor Pirate

Efforts to secure the extradition of Tiny Moore, alias Tiny Palmer, Seattle hi-jacker, who was arrested Tuesday night in the Puget Sound city after a scuffle with Sheriff C. H. Kerney, are being made in Vancouver, according to a night report received from the Mainland. Preparations are being made in Vancouver for the holding of a public hearing of the theft charge lodged against Moore. Proceedings will take place before a justice of the peace, and the hearing will be forwarded as soon as possible to Seattle to be used in the action for extradition, according to Inspector Walter Owen, of the Provincial Police Department, who is in Vancouver.

The theft charge upon which Moore is held was made by Mr. Nathan Bell, of the Consolidated Exporters, Limited. According to the form filed, Moore is accused of stealing twenty-five bags of Scotch whisky, sixty bags of bourbon whisky and forty bags of Gordon gin. He is being held in the King County Jail in lieu of $25,000 bail.

Moore, or Palmer, as he is known best in Seattle, was a member of a whisky pirate gang of three, it is alleged. On May 17 he and his associates held up the gasboat Erskine, near Sidney Island, and transferred her $10,000 cargo to their own craft. After the skippers of the rifled boat, Captain Robert Steele, reported the theft, Moore and his two companions were secretly indicted in Vancouver.

Captain Steele told the Vancouver police that as he had neared Sidney Island, he was hailed by three men in a small speed boat. When he slowed up and took them aboard, he said, they told him they were looking for a lost rowboat, and asked him if he had sighted it. After partaking of coffee, they suddenly covered him and his crew with revolvers and transferred his cargo.

According to the Vancouver indictments, Moore's companions in the alleged hi-jacking venture are said to be Theodore Eggers, alias Theodore Edgar, and P. H. Kelly, both of Seattle.

STRANGE HOUSE ON WHEELS HERE AGAIN

Long Beach Men Arrive With Motor Inn, Which Is Attracting Much Attention in the City

Once more the Motor Inn is seen about the streets of Victoria. It is the house on wheels owned by Mr. John P. DeNeul, of Long Beach, California, who visited the Island last year in the same unusual vehicle, which attracts a great deal of attention wherever it goes.

Mr. DeNeul, who is accompanied by Mr. James Aston, also of Long Beach, will make a tour up the Island before leaving for the south. Since visiting here last year he has driven across the desert from California and been as far east as Minnesota.

The Motor Inn, which was described by The Colonist when it arrived in Victoria last year for the first time, is fitted up as a traveling home which combines comfort and utility in ingenious fashion.

DRUG CASE IS AGAIN REMANDED FOR WEEK

Vancouver Lawyer Appointed to Conduct Investigation of Charges Against Mounties

They walked right in and they turned around and they walked right out again. Reference being to the case against Mounted Police Officers F. W. Eccles and W. D. Smith, and Frank Wilson, who are charged with being in unlawful possession of some fifty pounds of opium, which case was called on remand in Police Court yesterday. Another remand was granted when it was apparent that the case would not appear again on October 19. Unless brought to some sort of conclusion soon, the Eccles-Smith-Williams appearance in Victoria's police court will, by virtue of much repetition, become a routine thing and then a tradition.

Yesterday's appearance was preceded by some four or five remands. According to procedure so far, they parade into court once each week and parade out again on remand while their counsel, the Crown Prosecutor, the Attorney-General, the Department of Justice at Ottawa and various officials of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police, carry on negotiations and argument.

Yesterday it was announced that Mr. J. P. Smith, of Vancouver, had been appointed a commissioner to hold an inquiry into the charges laid against the three accused. In Police Court, Mr. Harrison, city prosecutor, stated that he understood Mr. Smith was to be authorized to conduct an investigation, and therefore he did not press opposition against a further remand. The magistrate remarked that he understood the case was to be proceeded with yesterday, inquiry or no inquiry, but he admitted that the court could not proceed when the accused were not fully represented by counsel. It was pointed out that Mr. J. B. Patullo, K.C., who with Mr. F. R. Russell, K.C., and Mr. H. G. Hesterman, is counsel for accused, was unable to attend because of illness. Mr. Russell was also absent, but Mr. Hesterman formally applied for the adjournment.

At the request of Mr. Harrison an order was made that accused secure fresh bail bonds. Formerly they had been permitted to go bond for each other.

They Who Prefer Custom-Made Suits

Will Be Interested in Wholesale Ert. Agency Sating

Young men have no prejudice against the quicker and better way of wholesale tailoring known better as the Semi-ready way. But the habit still stays with the elderly men, and some still prefer made-to-measure clothes.

The Semi-ready way includes a custom-made service. Suits and overcoats are made to measure in four days at the factory—delivered here in fourteen days always. Values vary from $14 up, but they always have the best call for the values at $35 to $50. Every pattern has the finished price printed on it, for the Semi-ready tailor believes in the open face watch. Messrs. A. P. Miller, Douglas Street, have the exclusive sale of Semi-ready clothes in this city. (ADV.)

WELL-KNOWN PIONEER BURIED AT VANCOUVER

Widow of Rev. Ebenezer Robson, Long a Resident of British Columbia—Well-Known Here

Word has come from Vancouver of the funeral there on Tuesday of Mrs. Ebenezer Robson, widow of the Rev. Ebenezer Robson, D.D., pioneer missionary of the Methodist Church in British Columbia, who passed away in 1911.

The late Mrs. Robson, who had a large circle of friends among the older residents of Victoria, was one of the most beloved among women; truly a mother in Israel, whose influence upon the work of the Methodist Church in this province through many of the earlier years of its history, can hardly be estimated.

In February, 1855, when the Methodist missionaries arrived at Victoria, Ebenezer Robson, the youngest member of the party, was sent to minister to the gold miners of the Fraser River, with headquarters at Hope. Within a year the courageous young lady who was to share his fortunes during a long and eventful career, came alone from the East to join him at Victoria, where she became his bride, and afterwards proceeded to Hope, where his pioneer labors had commenced.

It is difficult for the present generation to realize what life at Hope, B.C., involved in those days. When Mr. Robson was there he had to travel from Fort Langley by canoe in March of the following year Mrs. Robson accompanied her husband to the gold fields of the interior, and the river journey being made by barge, and the remainder by canoe. This suggests the nature of the hardships and dangers faced in those early days.

In 1866, owing to ill-health, she was compelled to return East, but in the fall she and her husband returned to the Coast and took up their abode in the affairs of the Methodist Church and made an honored name for themselves in the general progress of the province. Mr. Robson was the first president of the British Columbia Methodist Conference, and was largely responsible for the founding of Oculum College, which was his brother, the late Hon. John Robson, a former premier of the province.

The late Mrs. Robson is survived by her son, Mr. Ernest Robson, of Vancouver, with whom she has resided during the past twelve years.

DRIVER IS CHARGED WITH MANSLAUGHTER

Appears in Provincial Police Court, But Is Remanded Until Next Monday Morning

Manslaughter was the charge formally laid against Edward Alexander Smith in the Provincial Police Court yesterday, in connection with the death last Tuesday evening on the Island Highway near Mill Bay, of Peter Johnson, four-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. P. Johnson, of Salt Spring Island. Mr. R. C. Lowe, counsel for accused, applied for and was granted a remand until next Monday morning. Bail was set at $5,000 in two sureties of $2,500 each.

According to the report of the accident and later developments arising from it, the serious charge was brought against accused following the verdict returned by a jury at an inquest held at Mill Bay, Wednesday, under the direction of Provincial Constable Otway Wilkie. Smith, it was stated, was the driver of a car containing deceased and his mother and father. They were bound from Victoria to Chemainus, and when near Mill Bay, the car ran off the road and overturned, the boy being killed instantly.

Accused was employed as foreman at the Chemainus mill of the Victoria Lumber & Manufacturing Company. Mr. Johnson, father of the deceased, is a cook at a logging camp near Chemainus.

ity between him and the late Sir Wilfrid Laurier, for fifteen years Premier of the Dominion. Like the great Liberal leader, Hon. Mr. Lapointe stood out solidly for a united Canada—not East and West, but the Dominion as a whole.

Referring to his recent journey across Canada to Ottawa and other Eastern centres where he had been in connection with the campaign for freight rates reduction, the Premier stated that he had been impressed with the tremendous geographical difficulties which stood in the way of unity of commerce and Canadian thought and life. Yet he believed firmly that such barriers were being overcome by broad understanding and a broad spirit of sympathy and tolerance.

Harbours Always Open

Speaking more directly of British Columbia, Hon. Mr. Oliver drew attention to the fact that in all the great coastline of the Province, which was also the Western coastline of the Dominion, there existed not a single harbor which was not completely open for shipping every day in the year. He mentioned the great changes which had been wrought in transportation problems pertaining to the Canadian Pacific coast by the completion of the Panama Canal, and he pointed out that he termed the apparent fact that the equitable solving of such problems was handicapped by unjust regulations.

He pointed out to Hon. Mr. Lapointe that the source of approximately 38 per cent of the fisheries wealth of Canada was located in British Columbia, and he considered in view of that fact, that the Dominion Government should have a deputy Federal minister of fisheries in this Province. He claimed it was physically impossible for the department at Ottawa to equitably control and regulate so large a portion of the fisheries industry from such a distant headquarters as Ottawa.

Mr. M. A. Macdonald

Mr. M. A. Macdonald, K.C., of Vancouver, wished to associate himself with the Premier's tribute to Hon. Mr. Lapointe. He was every inch a man, and there were many inches of him, he said. He was a representative of the French-Canadian race, and he joined with Premier Oliver in welcoming him to British Columbia, not only as the representative of a great race, but as the bearer of a message of confidence in the future and solid unity of Canada.

Mr. Macdonald paid considerable attention to the speech of Hon. Mr. Lapointe, and he said that his representation in the Federal parliament from Western Canada, which term, he said, included the Province of British Columbia, in regard to Hon. S. F. Tolmie, M.P. for Victoria, the speaker asserted that he carried two flags—a Tory flag at the fore and a Grit flag aft.

He considered it important that the hands of Hon. Mr. King, Liberal member for East Kootenay, should be strengthened at Ottawa by greater representation from the West. The West was occupied, he said, by British Columbia, and he said, most of the public questions before the people of the Dominion having to do with British Columbia and the Western prairie provinces.

Looks for Prosperity

"There is a great future in store for us," Mr. Macdonald continued. "It is true that we are burdened with tremendous obligations, but under the present Liberal Government we have good reason to look forward hopefully to an early return of those years of prosperity this Dominion enjoyed under the leadership of the late Sir Wilfrid Laurier. Western Canada must take part—must assist in the consummation of that state of prosperity so much desired, and for that reason British Columbia must be in line with the Liberal regime and be fully represented on the right hand of the Speaker in the Federal House instead of on the left. Development of our natural resources, and at the same time a closer development of national unity, must come, so that Canada will be a strong partner in the great commonwealth of nations of which we are so proud to belong, the British Empire."

Mr. Macdonald, in conclusion, paid high tribute to the present Liberal leader in the Federal parliament, Hon. Mackenzie King, characterizing him as an expert in all those many branches of knowledge which went to make a man a great leader.

Following the address given by Premier Oliver, and after Mr. Macdonald's speech, vocal solos were beautifully rendered by Miss Isabel Crawford and Mrs. S. Morton.

BALTIMORE TEAM TIES JUNIOR WORLD SERIES

KANSAS CITY, Oct. 11.—The Baltimore Orioles, International League champions, tied the junior world series here today by defeating the Kansas City Blues, American Association pennant winners, 3 to 1, in the second game. Baltimore hit Caldwell opportunely, while Groves held Kansas City to four scattered hits.

Small and Formed Sore Eruptions. Skin Sore and Red. Cuticura Heals.

"Pimples broke out on the back of my head and neck. At first the pimples were small and then ten into each other and formed sore eruptions about the size of a ten cent piece. The skin was sore and red and itched a great deal, causing me to scratch. I had the trouble about six months before I began using Cuticura Soap and Ointment, and after using them a box of Soap and three boxes of Ointment I was healed." (Signed) J. A. Macdonald, Orlind, Quebec.

City & District

Solicitor Absent—City Solicitor Pringle was absent from his office yesterday owing to ill-health.

Seeking Funds—The Red Cross Society has placed boxes in the city schools in which contributions to the Japanese Relief Fund may be put.

Tax Sale Continues—The $20,000 mark has been passed by the city's tax sale receipts, four more parcels being disposed of yesterday.

End Drawing Near—The Court of Revision is drawing near to the end of its list of appeals, after which the question of a general reduction or one in certain areas will be considered.

Paint Reduced—Paint is to be reduced twenty-five cents a gallon throughout Canada, it was announced by J. C. Pendray, general manager of the "Hapco" Company, on his return from the convention of paint manufacturers at Montreal.

To Continue Scholarships—The three scholarships at the B.C. Dramatic School, won by Miss Ella Pottinger, Miss Mary McFadden and Miss Jeannette Miller, have been extended for a further six months owing to the excellence of the work done by these pupils.

Distinguished Honoree—At the presentation of musical certificates of the R. A. M. and R. C. M., which took place on Wednesday evening at the High School, Miss Dorothy Greenwood, aged sixteen, who is a pupil of Mrs. Brenton Boulton, A.R.C.M., was presented with the advanced grade certificate, with distinction, which she secured with the unusually high number of 145 marks.

Victoria Review Meeting—Victoria Review, No. 1, W.B.A., held its regular meeting Tuesday evening. Commander Mrs. M. Morley presiding. Several visitors from Queen Alexandra Review, No. 11, and Royal Review, No. 18, were present and spoke on Review work. Arrangements were made for a banquet to be held at the next regular meeting, and all members are cordially invited to attend.

No Reward Up Now—The city has no reward standing for the individual who was responsible for the murder of the "Loraine" murderer," said Mayor Hayward yesterday. "The Council withdrew its offer, and whether it will consider that it is under more obligation to make no payment I do not know. No doubt the question will arise after the courts have decided to whom the Provincial Government reward should be given."

Six Signatures—The ten $1,000 debentures recently sold by the Cemetery Board to the Royal Flying Corps Corporation bear two seals and six signatures. They were being prepared at the City Hall yesterday. Mayor Hayward signs them, and once as Mayor and again as chairman of the Cemetery Board, while City Clerk Bradley places his name upon them once as Clerk of the Council, and a second time as secretary-treasurer of the Cemetery Board. They also bear the signatures of Reeve and the other members of the Board, of Spanish. The seals of both the city and Spanish are impressed upon the bonds.

Visited Hospital—The sick committees of the Canadian Legion and Women's Auxiliary made their usual visit this week to the hospital and distributed to the ex-service men patients tobacco, cigarettes and reading matter. Many expressions of appreciation of the interest taken in the patients of the ex-service organizations was heard during the visit. The system by which each organization associated in the armistice period committees visit the hospital in rotation weekly is working splendidly, and the patients know which organization will visit them in turn, and are ready to receive them.

Arrange Masquerade—The monthly meeting of the Esquimalt branch of the Guild of the Sailors' Club was held at the club Wednesday evening. The president, Mrs. Cave, presided. Arrangements were made for a masquerade dance to be held at the club assembly hall on the evening of November 8, when ten prizes will be given for the following costumes: The most comic, most original, his, her, best advertisement, etc. Mrs. Cave will be general convener for the event, and Mesdames Morrison, Caldwell and Gray will have charge of the receipt of costumes, and Miss Thain will supply dance music. An enjoyable function is anticipated.

Arrangements for Future Events—The Women's Auxiliary to the Canadian Legion held its fortnightly meeting on Tuesday evening. The various committees gave most satisfactory reports. A concert is to take place in the tubercular ward some evening in the near future. A silver tea has been arranged to take place in the reading room of the club on Thursday, October 18, from three o'clock in the afternoon till five-thirty. A musical program has been arranged for the occasion. A social will be held shortly for all members and their wives, the date to be announced in due course. The usual what drive will be held in the club room this evening, when excellent prizes will be given.

May Discuss Guild Plan—The carpenters of the city had an interesting meeting in the Trades Hall, Broad Street, on Monday last. Optimism was the prevailing note inspired by the many evidences of the return of busier times and the necessity of preparing for same. It was decided to hold a further meeting on Saturday at 8 p.m., at the same place, when a large gathering and special speakers are expected. The carpenters feel that as a body of citizen workmen who through any means or other have established homes in the city and weathered out the quiet times in consequence, they are entitled to share in a greater degree in the good times coming. The question of the construction of guild houses will probably be dealt with; also the best means of securing adequate recognition for carpenters in order to attract and retain the best class of workmen here.

Prince Enjoys Visit

MRS. POWELL ATTAINS FOUR SCORE YEARS

Many Friends Gather to Congratulate Well-Known Lady on Eightieth Birthday

A very pleasing incident to a large number of friends of Mrs. I. W. Powell, widow of the late Dr. Powell, took place on September 23, when, at the home of her daughter, Mrs. David Boig, Fairford road, a birthday party was held in honor of Mrs. Powell's eightieth birthday. Mrs. Powell has been an esteemed and valued resident of Victoria since 1860, and was the recipient of a gift from her assembled friends, accompanied by their kindest good wishes. Mrs. Hamington, on behalf of the assembly made the presentation, which was accompanied by the following address:

"Victoria, B.C., September 23, 1913.

"My Dear Mrs. Powell,

"It is a great honor, as well as a great pleasure, to be allowed to offer you the congratulations of the friends who are here today, realizing that we represent, also, the many more, scattered throughout the world, who would gladly join us in our loving good wishes for this and the years to come.

"Not only as a community do we owe you thanks for the inspiration and help you have given to music, the drama, and social intercourse (the Musical and Alexandra Clubs, and many other organizations, bearing witness to your unflinching interest), but as individuals, all who have enjoyed your friendship have been given wise counsel when in doubt, appreciation and encouragement in success, and sympathy and help in their distress, and we have learned many lessons of hope and faith, of fortitude in bereavement, and of the generosity which shares not only one's possessions, but one's self. It may be said of you as a poet has written of his wife:

"The death little kindnesses Which most leave undone or despise; For naught that sets one heart at ease, And giveth happiness or peace, Is low esteemed in her eyes."

"Although there may be others who have had the privilege of a longer intimacy with you, I am grateful that an unbroken friendship of forty-five years has enabled me to speak in all love and sincerity.

"We are so glad to accept this token of our affection for you, hoping it may represent some little pleasure which from time to time you may enjoy, and we wish you abundant brightness for this and all the coming years.

"On behalf of your friends, "IDA HANNINGTON.

"1878-1913." Mrs. Powell was also the recipient of verses composed on the occasion of her birthday by Miss A. S. Sweet, as follows:

A Birthday Wish
My friend, on this natal day,
What shall I wish thee?
Naught but the oft repeated lay
"Many happy returns!"

Not so, my wish for thee is this,
Sincere and true,
That through the coming years of life,
Many or few;
Through light and gloom, in peace or strife,
May God be with thee,
Be thy strength and stay whatever betide,
Till life's long day be past.

The second poem, as follows, is entitled: My Birthday
Another year has passed away,
A new one just begun,
And who can tell what may befall
Before its course is run?
It may be joy or sorrow,
Weary with hours of pain,
Or unexpected gladness
Come back to me again.

The musical interest afforded by these recitals hardly requires comment. They have commanded quite a striking amount of attention in the past owing to the unique standard of excellence which is maintained, and the unusual amount of really exceptional talent which seems to have been discovered by the teacher among her pupils. The second part of tonight's programme will give the hearer an opportunity to see for himself what may be accomplished by the Virgil Clavier method, properly used, in securing results. After each selection played by each of four pupils, the Duo Art piano, played by Mr. King, of Fletcher Bros., will give a repetition of the number. A most successful rehearsal was held yesterday afternoon in the Empress Hotel ball room, when each and everyone of the young performers showed a keen desire to please, and a rare treat for those who are to be among the patrons tonight.

MRS. P. CLARKE HOLDS PRETTY RECEPTION AT HER HALIFAX HOME

The following from The Evening Echo, Halifax, will interest the many friends here of Commander and Mrs. P. Clarke, formerly of Esquimalt:

One of the prettiest and most delightful afternoon social functions of the season was the reception given on Tuesday afternoon by Mrs. P. Clarke, wife of Engineer-Commander Clarke, of Esquimalt. This is the first time Mrs. Clarke has received since her arrival from Victoria, and Halifax people greatly enjoyed this pleasant opportunity of welcoming her to the city. The out-of-doors, with the sun shining on the autumn leaves and flowers was not more beautiful than the interior of Mrs. Clarke's pretty home, which was brightened by a wealth of summer flowers and the most colorful autumn leaves obtainable from nearby woodlands. The reception room and hall were decked with artistic clusters of leaves, pinks and graceful gladioli of a deep rich pink. Mrs. Clarke wore a smart gown of black lace over black tulle, with the popular lady Betty sleeves which hang softly to the hem of the gown. A distinctive touch was lent by a necklace of ivory beads.

Tea was served in the dining-room where a color scheme of pink was carried out very effectively. The tea table was lovely, the centerpiece being a handsome silver basket filled with pale pink carnations and tied with a bow of pink tulle, the ends of which fell mist-like among the dainty blooms. This basket, which was of exquisite workmanship and excited admiration on all sides, was presented to Mrs. Clarke by the Sailors' Club in Esquimalt as a token of their esteem, just before she left for Halifax. At alternate corners of the table were flowers and pink shaded candles which cast a warm glow upon the prettily arranged and perfectly appointed table with its array of delicious refreshments. Mrs. Nelson Gibson and Mrs. Archibald McCallum presided over the tea and coffee urn, and in the group serving were Mrs. Guy Little and Mrs. Frederick Budd. The rooms were continually thronged throughout the afternoon.

ARSENIC IN QUANTITY IN NORTHERN INTERIOR

Dr. Hanson, of Geological Survey, Estimates That He Has Located to Amount of 50,000 Tons

Dr. Hanson, of the Geological Survey, in an interview in The Omnica Herald, says that since he started to look for arsenical ore in the interior country he has located what is estimated to be 50,000 tons.

This ore is on Nine-Mile and Roache de Boule Mountains, and on the Dubhie property on Hudson Bay Mountain. He also believed that the Dome Mountain area carried considerable arsenic.

The mineral sought is carried with other minerals and would be a by-product of those other minerals, but the demand for arsenic is rapidly increasing and the miners will find it profitable to have the arsenic saved. It is used largely in destroying insect life on the farms and in the orchards, and its use is becoming more general each year.

Of the billion and a quarter dollars of British capital invested in Argentina, over seven hundred millions are in railways.

THE good wearing quality of Mercury "Broad Ribs" makes a selection of these stockings for fall and winter a genuine economy. "Broad Ribs" are the season's choice for a comfortable, stylish stocking.

Virgil-Clavier PUPILS PLAYING

Miss Marian Hemling's Pianoforte Students to Appear in Recital at Empress Hotel Tonight

For several years Victoria has enjoyed at least once every season the recitals given by Miss Marian Hemling's pianoforte pupils. Tonight, at the Empress ballroom, one of these interesting events is to take place, and in her usual manner Miss Hemling is turning over the proceeds to one of the funds which commend themselves to public sympathy: in this instance the Billy Muir Fund.

The musical interest afforded by these recitals hardly requires comment. They have commanded quite a striking amount of attention in the past owing to the unique standard of excellence which is maintained, and the unusual amount of really exceptional talent which seems to have been discovered by the teacher among her pupils. The reception room and hall were decked with artistic clusters of leaves, pinks and graceful gladioli of a deep rich pink. Mrs. Clarke wore a smart gown of black lace over black tulle, with the popular lady Betty sleeves which hang softly to the hem of the gown. A distinctive touch was lent by a necklace of ivory beads.

Tea was served in the dining-room where a color scheme of pink was carried out very effectively. The tea table was lovely, the centerpiece being a handsome silver basket filled with pale pink carnations and tied with a bow of pink tulle, the ends of which fell mist-like among the dainty blooms. This basket, which was of exquisite workmanship and excited admiration on all sides, was presented to Mrs. Clarke by the Sailors' Club in Esquimalt as a token of their esteem, just before she left for Halifax. At alternate corners of the table were flowers and pink shaded candles which cast a warm glow upon the prettily arranged and perfectly appointed table with its array of delicious refreshments. Mrs. Nelson Gibson and Mrs. Archibald McCallum presided over the tea and coffee urn, and in the group serving were Mrs. Guy Little and Mrs. Frederick Budd. The rooms were continually thronged throughout the afternoon.

ARSENIC IN QUANTITY IN NORTHERN INTERIOR

Dr. Hanson, of Geological Survey, Estimates That He Has Located to Amount of 50,000 Tons

Dr. Hanson, of the Geological Survey, in an interview in The Omnica Herald, says that since he started to look for arsenical ore in the interior country he has located what is estimated to be 50,000 tons.

This ore is on Nine-Mile and Roache de Boule Mountains, and on the Dubhie property on Hudson Bay Mountain. He also believed that the Dome Mountain area carried considerable arsenic.

The mineral sought is carried with other minerals and would be a by-product of those other minerals, but the demand for arsenic is rapidly increasing and the miners will find it profitable to have the arsenic saved. It is used largely in destroying insect life on the farms and in the orchards, and its use is becoming more general each year.

Of the billion and a quarter dollars of British capital invested in Argentina, over seven hundred millions are in railways.

Virgil-Clavier PUPILS PLAYING

Miss Marian Hemling's Pianoforte Students to Appear in Recital at Empress Hotel Tonight

For several years Victoria has enjoyed at least once every season the recitals given by Miss Marian Hemling's pianoforte pupils. Tonight, at the Empress ballroom, one of these interesting events is to take place, and in her usual manner Miss Hemling is turning over the proceeds to one of the funds which commend themselves to public sympathy: in this instance the Billy Muir Fund.

The musical interest afforded by these recitals hardly requires comment. They have commanded quite a striking amount of attention in the past owing to the unique standard of excellence which is maintained, and the unusual amount of really exceptional talent which seems to have been discovered by the teacher among her pupils. The second part of tonight's programme will give the hearer an opportunity to see for himself what may be accomplished by the Virgil Clavier method, properly used, in securing results. After each selection played by each of four pupils, the Duo Art piano, played by Mr. King, of Fletcher Bros., will give a repetition of the number. A most successful rehearsal was held yesterday afternoon in the Empress Hotel ball room, when each and everyone of the young performers showed a keen desire to please, and a rare treat for those who are to be among the patrons tonight.

MRS. P. CLARKE HOLDS PRETTY RECEPTION AT HER HALIFAX HOME

The following from The Evening Echo, Halifax, will interest the many friends here of Commander and Mrs. P. Clarke, formerly of Esquimalt:

One of the prettiest and most delightful afternoon social functions of the season was the reception given on Tuesday afternoon by Mrs. P. Clarke, wife of Engineer-Commander Clarke, of Esquimalt. This is the first time Mrs. Clarke has received since her arrival from Victoria, and Halifax people greatly enjoyed this pleasant opportunity of welcoming her to the city. The out-of-doors, with the sun shining on the autumn leaves and flowers was not more beautiful than the interior of Mrs. Clarke's pretty home, which was brightened by a wealth of summer flowers and the most colorful autumn leaves obtainable from nearby woodlands. The reception room and hall were decked with artistic

VETERANS' ALLIANCE PLAN IS APPROVED

Army and Navy Veterans endorse formation of local committee—Scheme Discussed.

Members of the Army and Navy Veterans' Association, at the regular meeting of the organization last night in the clubrooms, were addressed by Comrade Despard Twigg, of the Canadian Legion, on the formation of a Dominion Veterans' Alliance committee for Victoria and district. The proposal was approved by the Army and Navy Veterans, and Comrade G. Gardner and C. F. L. Money were appointed delegates to represent the association thereon.

The Provincial Command convention will be held in Victoria, Saturday, November 17, and plans for the gathering were discussed last night.

Comrades G. Gardner and C. F. L. Money were named to represent the local body on this occasion also. The delegates will attend to the business of the convention at a morning meeting, and in the evening will be guests at a working concert arranged by the Victoria branch.

Comrade C. P. Askey, C. F. L. Money and G. Gardner, representatives from this city at the recent Dominion convention, gave a full report of the proceedings of that gathering. The report was well received by the meeting. For the purpose of hearing these reports, Mrs. Thompson and Mrs. Law, representing the Ladies' Auxiliary, were in attendance.

Three new members were welcomed by President Seymour Rowlinson last night. Comrade P. G. Simmons was appointed to the executive council. The attendance was very good, members being anxious to hear the reports of the Dominion convention. There was no discussion of the soldier advocate matter, the question being left for the organizing Dominion alliance to deal with.

Alec Kerr, Ruby's fiancé.

Quentin Gray, an artist friend of Ruby's.

Mrs. Wakeland, friend and rich client of Stewart, who takes a fancy to Cynthia.

Viola Jerrild, friend of Murray's.

Miss—The Seven of Illness

THE little count broke into the melting strains of Paganini, and Cynthia—on a sudden impulse—altered through the curtains just behind her chair and out to a stone balcony which was cool and quiet and empty.

No, not empty, as she suddenly discovered to her own dismay, for a glowing point of light and the odor of a really good cigar were there.

She was about to slip noiselessly back into the room again, when the owner of the cigar came toward her, and said, nonchalantly:

"What a lovely night! I'd just see the Milky Way up there? I'm rather fond of stargazing."

Her heart beat violently. For she was alone with Murray Stewart.

Had he recognized her? Or was he merely showing the civility he would to any one of Margaret Wakeland's dinner guests?

"You get a better view from the other end of the balcony, if you saunter along this way." He seemed to take it for granted that whoever the unknown woman was, she would follow him. "Dark, isn't it?"

Without a word she turned and walked beside him to the far end, where two chairs with rugs were placed, as though ready set for intimate talk.

But Cynthia, nervous and shy, leaned up against the parapet, and her flushed cheeks brushed against a spray of scented lilac that protruded from a tree outside.

"I love the scent of it, don't you?" Murray Stewart caught the spray and broke it off. "Please take it. It's so like you, anyhow."

"Like me?" she echoed. "I don't understand."

"Shall I tell you, then?" His entrancing voice was low and full of meaning. "Spring is the loveliest season of the year—to me—with everything budding and blowing and growing, and the young sap rising in the trees—and hope rising in the human heart."

A trembling silence followed, as his voice died into silence.

"Yes," he said, "I never resigned my job. I went down to the office last night and deliberately lied, in order to quit her rival from the point of vantage in the young man's office, where she could have daily access to him."

"There's been a mistake," said Cynthia quietly. "I never resigned my job. I went down to the office last night and deliberately lied, in order to quit her rival from the point of vantage in the young man's office, where she could have daily access to him."

son, and not the quiet country mouse of bygone days.

"You want me to go on?" He had moved closer to her, and his hand was on her arm. "You want to know just why that spray of lilac makes me think of you—though I don't need anything to make me think of you—that's the irony of everything."

She tried to speak, but not a word would come, and the low, entrancing tones went on:

"When you walked into my office that enchanted morning it just seemed—Cynthia—the very breath of Spring had come to me, after long years of waiting! No, Cynthia—dear heart—don't draw away from me—please let me say, for once—only, if you like—just what's tormented me! You shall—you must—listen."

Her heart was beating like a sledge-hammer, and the lilac in her hand was held so tightly that its crushed sweetness filled the air with a heady sweetness, like a drug.

"All my life I've had ideals, and tried hard to live up to them, though God knows that isn't easy in a town like this! I've dreamed of a girl like you—Cynthia—with soft, rippling hair that sprays out on her forehead and over her ears, just like that flower grows, with the scent of spring and purity about it, as you have."

"And your eyes? They're dark, and yet, one day, as you sat in my dusty, dingy office, bending over your typewriter, a glint of sunlight caught them, giving them a lilac color, so that every time I see the flower I seem to see your little face, your eyes."

She found her voice. It seemed queer and far-away, for the gay music of the little god of love was in her ears, shutting out all human sounds save his own triumphant song of triumph.

"I never dreamed you thought—like that—that I was why you send me away?"

"Send you away?" he echoed blankly. "I never sent you away—I couldn't—when I feel like this about you. Why, dear heart, what do you mean? It was you who sent a message, saying that the work was nearly hard for you—"

She gave a little startled exclamation. (Viola Jerrild had dared greatly!)

"You were ill. You couldn't come to work. I had hoped to hear from you, direct, but no word came. That hurt me, though I tried not to be selfish, for the work is close and confining, and I have seemed to me as though a breath of air would blow you away—"

He was almost incoherent in his explanation, but the heart of Cynthia glowed—and understood.

"Viola Jerrild very kindly offered to take your place until you were better, and she did so. But she is—before you suggested such a thing—that you weren't strong enough for the post?"

"The phrasing before you suggested such a thing," was evidently the crux of the whole misunderstanding. Viola Jerrild had recklessly and deliberately lied, in order to quit her rival from the point of vantage in the young man's office, where she could have daily access to him."

"There's been a mistake," said Cynthia quietly. "I never resigned my job. I went down to the office last night and deliberately lied, in order to quit her rival from the point of vantage in the young man's office, where she could have daily access to him."

Mrs. LILLIAN BERNHART GOLDSMITH, president of the Girls and Philanthropy Club of Los Angeles, Cal., will speak at a special meeting of the Women's Canadian Club in the Empress Hotel this afternoon. Mrs. Goldsmith is a brilliant and interesting speaker, and has received invitations to address clubs and organizations throughout the United States. She is expected to arrive in Victoria on her trip to Seattle, the meeting will commence punctually at 3 o'clock.

MRS. WARREN GIVES INTERESTING ADDRESS

Girl Guides Commissioner for Canada Explains Aims and Objects of Organization

Mrs. H. D. Warren, of Toronto, Girl Guides Commissioner for Canada, gave an address yesterday afternoon at the Empress Hotel under the auspices of Municipal Chapter, I.O.G.E. The meeting was open to the public, and to which members of the Women's Canadian Club were especially invited.

The private dining-room of the Empress Hotel, where the meeting took place, was filled to capacity, judging from yesterday's interesting gathering, there can be no doubt that the Girl Guide movement has attained considerable importance in the minds of men and women of this city.

The aims and objects of the organization were fully and interestingly explained by the speaker, who has the facts at her command, and who answered many questions asked by members of the audience. Mrs. Warren told of the growth of the movement throughout Canada, citing many little incidents which had occurred during her recent transcontinental tour. She made an ardent appeal for "leaders" or "builders" to instruct the young guides, which had occurred during her recent transcontinental tour.

Mrs. Warren made a statement which was particularly pleasing to her audience when she said: "The first Girl Guide headquarters I have found since I left Toronto is the headquarters in Victoria. After Ontario, this province has organized the greatest number of Guides."

The assistance of the I.O.G.E. and the Women's Canadian Club was solicited by the speaker to help the furtherance of the movement which has gained such a strong footing in British Columbia. "We are not asking for money, but if you think the Girl Guides need a little assistance, give it to them," said the speaker.

Mrs. Warren briefly referred to the splendid work achieved by the Girl Guides during the late war and she told of an interesting branch formed in Calgary by a "Home Guide"—one who carried on the work by correspondence or by other means not usually exercised by the Guides—this lone guide was an invalid and formed a company of other guides, also invalids, who took up as much of the work as their condition permitted.

One member is the present time busily engaged in making poppies for Poppy Day, and by November 11 will have completed 15,000 flowers.

The speaker also made an illustration of the magnificent sentiment and work of the Guides.

At the request of Mrs. Henry Croft, who moved a hearty vote of thanks to Mrs. Warren, she told of many of the every-day practicalities of the Guides, and Mrs. Adams, an officer of the Victoria West Company, was called to the platform to exhibit the various badges she had won for different examinations in many useful lines.

Mrs. H. P. Hodges, vice-regent of Municipal Chapter, seconded the vote of thanks, and Mrs. Curtis Sampson, who presided at the meeting, presented Mrs. Warren with a beautiful bouquet of flowers.

At the conclusion of the meeting Mrs. Warren again addressed the audience, referring to the recent Child Welfare Conference she had attended in Winnipeg, and said: "If the Guides movement was carried on, child welfare work would be greatly diminished." She pointed out that the Girl Guides and the Boy Scouts are the biggest assets the Child Welfare Society possesses, for if the children are concerned with the healthy games and lessons to be learned in the organization, their minds will not be engaged in unhealthy curiosities or precocious investigations.

C.P.R. CLUB OPENS SEASON WITH SUCCESS

Many Guests Enjoy Charming Hospitality of Pucker House at Ball Held at Empress Hotel

The popularity of the C.P.R. Social and Athletic Club's functions, last season was most pronounced, and the year the first ball of the Winter months, which was held on Wednesday evening at the Empress Hotel, was, in its success, a happy augury for the coming events.

The affair was attended by fully two hundred and fifty guests. The excellent arrangements were made by a committee consisting of Messrs. J. W. Phillips, F. G. Mulliner and C. Griffiths. O'zard's seven-piece orchestra provided a pleasing programme of music, and responded generously to requests. A buffet supper was served in the dining-room.

The usual fortnightly series of dances will commence under the club's auspices on Thursday, October 13.

MAYOR GOES OUT IN ROLE OF CANVASSER

Seeks Funds for Publicity Bureau and Finds Sentiment in Favor of the Tourist Trade Much Stronger

The belief in the value of the tourist traffic has greatly strengthened among the merchants of the city, Mayor Hayward stated yesterday, after he had made a canvass of certain business houses to secure additional funds for the Victoria and Island Publicity Bureau.

The Mayor, who is chairman of the Finance Committee of the Bureau, went out yesterday to visit a list of prospects, accompanied by Alderman Sargent, a member of the same committee, in connection with the move being made by the Bureau to secure what it still requires of the $5,000, which the city is willing to match.

dollar for dollar, in addition to the $15,000 grant.

His Worship and the Alderman received an excellent reception wherever they went. "I found that the sentiment in favor of the tourist travel was much stronger than I have been in the past," said the Mayor last night. "We visited bankers, druggists and others, and upon inquiry were assured in all cases that the tourists were of undoubted value to the city. No one showed any desire to debate the taxation or business licence questions."

Kellogg's Bran gives permanent relief because it is ALL BRAN!

Every member of your family will enjoy better health—eat better, work better, sleep better—if they eat Kellogg's Bran regularly. Its natural, positive work for health is actually a blessing to humanity! Kellogg's gives permanent relief from constipation because it is ALL BRAN! It is scientifically prepared to relieve suffering humanity from constipation.

Kellogg's Bran cleans and purifies the drainage channel; it clears away toxic poisons and from your face the ravages of such dread diseases as Bright's, diabetes, etc., as well as sick headaches, rheumatism and mental and physical depression. A week's trial of this great natural food will prove that its work for health is wonderful!

Consider Kellogg's Bran as a food, instead of a laxative or a medicine. It is the costliest of whole wheat and contains such nourishment factors as mineral salts and other elements vital in sustaining life!

Kellogg's Bran is cooked and all ready to eat. It is delightful as a cereal, or sprinkled over your favorite hot or cold cereal. Another popular way to eat it is to cook or mix it with a hot cereal. In preparation, add two tablespoonfuls of bran for each person. Delicious bakery batches are made with Kellogg's Bran. Recipes are printed on each package.

DO TWO THINGS—Eat Kellogg's Bran each day for permanent relief from constipation and be certain to eat at least two tablespoonfuls; in chronic cases, with each meal.

First-class hotels, clubs and restaurants serve Kellogg's Bran in individual packages. Ask for it at your restaurant. All grocers.

Four Soccer Games On Tomorrow's Card

Veterans and Sons of England Will Clash at Royal Athletic Park, While Wests Will Oppose the Navy Eleven at the Canteen Grounds, Esquimalt—Matches in Other Sections

VICTORIA soccer fans, after missing their usual weekly games last Saturday, the matches on that day having been cancelled on account of the finals in the Mann Cup contest between Victoria and New Westminster lacrosse teams, will have four football games served up for their entertainment tomorrow afternoon. Two contests in the first division will be on the boards, while the other matches will be in the second and junior divisions. Good games are anticipated in all sections.

The chief city game, that is the First Division tilt that will be staged at Royal Athletic Park, will be played between the Veterans and Sons of England eleven. Both teams are said to be in good shape for the fray, while each is confident of walking off the field at the end of an hour and a half's play on the long end of the score. This match will commence at 3 o'clock, and it is likely that a large number of enthusiasts will witness the match.

The full list of games scheduled for tomorrow afternoon are as follows:

First Division
Navy vs. Wests, at Canteen; referee, Oliver.
S.O.E. vs. Veterans, at Royal Athletic Park; referee, Okwell.
Both games to start at 3 p.m.

Second Division
Esquimalt vs. Moose, at Beacon Hill lower ground at 3:30 p.m.; referee, Cull.

Junior Division
Oaklands vs. High School, at Central Park at 2:15.

The Island Club will not be seen on the field this week, this team having applied to have its name changed to North Wards. The Victoria and District Football Association has forwarded the Island Club's application for a change in its name, together with a recommendation that the request be granted, to the British Columbia Football Association in Vancouver. The return of the Wards will undoubtedly do much to increase the rivalry of First Division teams, as well as secure the support of those living in the north end of the city. The Wards, some years ago, were formidable contenders for soccer honors, and they hope to repeat again this year.

Soccer Notes

By A. B. Brown

Microconduct on the Field

From various sources come reports of questionable tactics by players in matches under the auspices of the English League. Commenting on this subject, a writer says: "The season is quite young, but it is regrettable that several First Division players have been ordered off the field, and among them even the captain of teams. That men of such wide experience should be in this position is most unfortunate."

"Following on the ordering off of Huddersfield Town, and Flint, of Notts County, came a similar experience for McKay, of Blackburn Rovers, and Huddersfield, of Newcastle United."

"The trouble arose over McKay charging Huddersfield. It is alleged, in the back. The whistle immediately blew for a foul, but ere it could be taken each man kicked at the other, though neither was touched. They were both put off the field, no other course being open."

Players and Their Wages

Among Scottish League Club officials there is a strong desire to cut down the players' wages. Attendance at matches has fallen off, due to industrial depression. At the recent Rangers vs. Celtic game there were 13,000 spectators, but times have been normal there would have been between seventy and eighty thousand.

It is evident that players will have to make up their minds for a change, declared one acquainted with the question. Developments may be looked for in the near future.

Sensational Game

One of the most sensational league matches played in Scotland this season was that between Ayr United and Celtic at Ayr. It was the first game, the result being 4-2.

A special meeting of the Scottish League will probably be held soon to reconsider the matter of admitting the unemployed to matches at a reduced charge, as was done last season.

The practice was discontinued by a ruling of the league, because so many people abused the privilege. Partick Thistle Club, however, has communicated with the league secretary with the object of having the subject debated again.

The Celtic began in great style and win for the home team this campaign within eight minutes they were leading by 3-0, and appeared well on the road to victory.

A great change came over the play, however, when Ayr opened out the game. They scored their next goal after sterling work by their forwards.

A second goal followed and then the real tug-of-war ensued.

Close on half-time Ayr scored their third goal, and led at the interval by 3-2.

In the second half the home team got their fourth goal, and thus won in sensational fashion after being two goals down early in the match. Such a wonderful recovery sent the Ayr spectators wild with delight.

Stamina played a big part in Ayr's success.

Concession to Unemployed
A special meeting of the Scottish League will probably be held soon to reconsider the matter of admitting the unemployed to matches at a reduced charge, as was done last season.

The practice was discontinued by a ruling of the league, because so many people abused the privilege. Partick Thistle Club, however, has communicated with the league secretary with the object of having the subject debated again.

A Brainy Footballer

When he left Blackburn Rovers for Everton before the war it was thought his best footballing days were over, for it was generally supposed he had two bad knees.

He has had a cartilage removed from each, but the Cardiff manager never made a better bargain than when he decided to sign on Glennell. He has been the brains of the Cardiff attack, and is still one of the most dangerous inside-lefts in England.

Hard to Find Successor
It has been no easy matter for Manchester United to find a successor to

Billy Meredith since he left the United in war-time to play for his first love, Manchester City.

"The famous outside-right, of course, was in a class by himself, and it is little wonder the club officials are not easily pleased with the men they have tried in the Welshman's position. Three or four have been tried but none have given satisfaction so far."

Badges Are Fashionable

Badges are becoming the fashion. Notts County has taken to a magpie badge, and Derby County sport an extra adornment—a dragon in black and white with the borough and county arms surrounding a ram's head.

COMPLETES FIRST OF CRIBBAGE CONTEST

NANAIMO, Oct. 11.—The first round of the Nanaimo district cribbage tournament, which has been completed, proved very successful, much interest being centered in the series. Twelve teams competed in the first round, each team consisting of eight players, making a total of 96 players.

The Ambulance team obtained the weekly prize for securing the greatest number of points, while Messrs. Bertram and Harbort, of the Surface team, received the individual high score prize for the week.

The results of the first round with points received are as follows:
Odd Fellows A, 2,781; defeated City A, 2,780; Odd Fellows B, 2,692; defeated Surface, 2,689; Ambulance A, 2,608; defeated Moose, 2,622; G.W.V.A., 2,724; defeated Ambulance B, 2,641; Owls, 2,753; defeated G.W.V.A. B, 2,542; Eagles, 2,742; defeated City B, 2,431.

DUNCAN LADIES WIN

The Duncan ladies' golf team defeated the ladies of the Uplands Golf Club by one point in an interesting competition played in the up-Island centre on Wednesday.

SHOOTS DUCKS OUT OF SEASON AND IS FINED

NANAIMO, Oct. 11.—For shooting ducks out of season, a local resident was yesterday fined $25 and costs by Magistrate C. H. Beevor-Potts in the city police court.

Two local residents were also each fined $10 and costs for carrying a gun without a licence, and in the case of a district resident, who was charged with carrying a rifle in his car with shells in the magazine, the Magistrate reserved decision.

NANAIMO WILL ENTER McKECHNIE CUP TEAM

NANAIMO, Oct. 11.—Nanaimo will enter a rugby team in the McKechnie series this season. The management of the local club believe they can organize a team that will outplay last year's line-up, and one that will give a good account of itself in future games.

SUSPEND TWO PLAYERS

LONDON, Oct. 11.—That the football association is pursuing with unabated energy the cleaning up campaign which it instituted last season was manifested at Sheffield yesterday when the commission of inquiry investigated incidents in the Huddersfield-Notts County match on September 15, which resulted in lapses of Huddersfield, and Flint, of Notts County, being ordered off the field.

The commission suspended both for one month and strongly cautioned them. Notts goal-keepers, both clubs were warned as to their future conduct.

Mothers know a dose of
DR. CALDWELL'S LAXATIVE
SYRUP PEPSIN
Will keep them fit

'First Aid' For Sick Children

THE experienced mother is not alarmed when a child becomes sick. She knows that most of the ailments of childhood are trifling. If it seems serious she calls a doctor, but whether or not she calls him, she gives, first of all, a good laxative medicine. The doctor would advise that anyway. It is his "first aid." Such experienced mothers as Mrs. G. R. Paquette, Pierreville, Que., and Mrs. J. F. Beak, 325 Johnson Ave., Winnipeg, always give Dr. Caldwell's Laxative Syrup Pepsin at the first indication of sickness. Each timely dose has saved them much worry.

The Meaning of "Good"
All doctors agree that a thorough cleaning out of the bowels is of first importance for it removes dangerous intestinal poisons. They will also advise a "good laxative," and by "good" they mean one that is effective and yet harmless. They know that there are physics that never should be given to children—colic, which is nervous and causes the teeth; phosphorin, a coal-tar drug that causes skin trouble; salts, which conconstipate the blood and dry up the saliva. They consider Dr. Caldwell's Laxative Syrup Pepsin safe for all ages as they know it is a simple vegetable compound of Egyptian senna with pepsin and agreeable aromatics. The formula is on the package.

Give Laxative for Colds
Adults should have at least one movement of the bowels every 24 hours, and children two or three. Failure to have it means constipation, then headaches, biliousness, drowsiness, lack of appetite. Give a dose of Dr. Caldwell's Laxative Syrup Pepsin at bedtime, and there will be health and good feeding by morning. A dose costs less than a cent, and a bottle can be had at any drug store. Colds and constipation come together, so if you notice coughing or sneezing stop it at once with Laxative Syrup Pepsin.

LOCAL ARTIST AT PANTAGES TONIGHT

Added to Regular Macy and Baird Performance Will Be Offering by Phyllis Betteridge

An added attraction to the regular Macy and Baird performance at the Pantages tonight and tomorrow will be Miss Phyllis Betteridge, a local artist, who shows much promise. Between the acts of "Kentucky Sue," Miss Betteridge will present a singing and dancing number that will be quite an addition to the regular programme.

"Kentucky Sue" tells the story of a New York society man who while on a hunting trip in the Kentucky mountains, meets and falls in love with an unsophisticated little mountain girl. He marries her and takes her to New York, but she is snubbed at every turn by his society friends, and even her husband tires of her uncouth mannerisms, and in desperation she leaves him and goes back to Kentucky.

After she leaves, the husband realizes how much he cares for her and follows, although he knows her mountain friends will shoot him on sight.

The climax is very interesting and exciting, and altogether "Kentucky Sue" will prove an entertaining evening.

A bargain matinee tomorrow at 1:00 for children and 2:00 for adults will also prove quite an added drawing card.

ROYAL: Few young stars of the theatre screen are better equipped in personal character and well-rounded talents to portray the role of a home-loving wife than Barbara Cavellon who appears in just such a part in Daniel Carson Goodman's sensational document of human passions, "What's Wrong With the Women."

Although Miss Cavellon is graced with a splendid figure without the ample lines that usually suggest the matron, she possesses a wholesome freshness that makes her the well-nigh perfect type for the young mother in a photoplay. And as a wife and mother in "What's Wrong With the Women?" she gives what most critics consider one of the greatest interpretations in the recent history of the screen.

In this extraordinary photoplay, which now occupies the screen of the Royal Theatre, much of the action revolves about Barbara Cavellon. Like a glad bird loosed from a golden cage into a garden of the gods to sing and strut gay plumes, she tore into the night life of the world's fastest and most furious metropolis. She was led innocently in the maelstrom of life in the great city, and was almost engulfed before her better sense was restrained here. And the consequences of her pilgrimage into the fast circle where men and women count not the toll they pay in moral reckoning, form the high-lights of Daniel Carson Goodman's amazingly dramatic and powerfully prophetic photoplay.

DOMINION: Rupert Julian was called THEATRE back from a vacation trip around the world by officials of the Universal Pictures Corporation to direct "Merry-Go-Round," the Universal Super-Jewel which is showing at the Dominion Theatre this week. At the time the habit reeled him he was at Bangkok. Mr. Julian tells an amusing story of his visit to that city. He found electricity, just coming into general use, with the power company holding its best to give it a better service. In every room in the hotel at which Julian stopped he found notices in various languages posted on the door. The English one read as follows: "Sir—for the case that your electric light should fail, we beg to show you attached postal card, which please send us at once when you find your light don't light. The company will promptly send you another postal card."

CAPITOL: With the law on his side, Buster Keaton now plays baseball to his heart's content. His contract with Joseph M. Schenck, the noted producer, has a clause permitting him to play whenever he wishes to—whereby hangs a tale. Formerly Keaton would line up the entire studio staff to play the long ball and play a game of ball. But Keaton would forget the time and play through the entire afternoon holding up production on whatever picture he worked on. Wherefore Mr. Schenck called a halt to baseball during business hours. Whereupon Keaton countered in his new contract and now baseball can play as long as he likes. "Baseball or no work" was Keaton's motto until the clause was inserted. Keaton's "Three Ages," his first full-length Metro comedy, is now playing at the Capitol Theatre.

COLUMBIA: "The Son of Wallingford," showing at the Columbia Theatre, is an unusually lengthy picture. The production requires eighty massive sets, and 1,500 scenes. In addition to this it was necessary to construct an artificial lake 500 feet wide by 2,000 feet long at a cost of $20,000. A whole town, that of Whittier, California, was used for many of the scenes. Ten tanks of oil, measuring 12 to 14 feet, were used to get the fire scenes, which were taken at night over the lake of burning oil. The conflagration raged on the lake for days, sweeping heavenward in huge whirlpools twice the size of a man's Green tinting of scenes showing the closeup of burning incense, the stage of the developing room and unusually pictorial titles are all the work of Mr. Chester.

FAITHFUL PICTURES OF NORMAN CASTLES IN CAPITOL FILM MONDAY

During the making of the screen version of "If Winter Comes," which is booked at the Capitol Theatre next week, the homes of Mark Sabre and Lord Tybar stood side by side upon the Fox studio floor. The intimate details of the Sabre establishment given by Hutehinson in his story have been faithfully reproduced in the William Fox screen version. The living-room, the dining-room, the study, the den are all shown, the home atmosphere about the place and its owner's love for the simple and enduring things of life being carried out with great care.

The nobleman's manor-house presents a view of lofty interiors, with tapestried walls, stately stairways and glimpses of a formal English garden through the small panes of inlaid bow-windows. There are scenes of social activities in the Tybar home that copy what actually was the decoration and loneliness which surrounded Mark Sabre when he finds himself the only inmate of his once happy home.

BIG ENGLISH SUCCESS THE SPORTING EARL AT ROYAL NEXT WEEK

Starting Monday, the public of Victoria will have a chance to see the big English production, "The Sporting Earl," which is playing in Canada after a run to tremendous success in England. It is a melange of laughs, thrills, romance and melodrama, the like of which has not been seen since the famous of the picture, "The Whirl."

The story of "The Sporting Earl" concerns the will of Sir Horace Pilkington Baronet by the terms of which his nephew inherits all his fortune and the other nephew becomes the possessor of his big racing stable, and this nephew is the sporting earl. Without a cent to his name this irresponsible young nobleman is the owner of the stable which numbers on its roster the famous name of "Cherilo, 'Art a Mo,'" considered by many in English sporting circles as the fastest colt from Ascot to Timbuctoo.

The story is full of thrills and comedy which will keep spectators tied in knots.

SAYS CANADIANS MUST SHATTER SECTIONALISM

handicap business and trade and fasten on the shoulders of the rate-payers taxes too heavy to bear.

Our task may seem very great and our outlook of taxation very gloomy, but there is a silver lining to the cloud. If we examine Canada, we find that the heart is sound and the national vitality is very strong.

"When you take into account the great natural resources of Canada lying untouched and ready to be converted into wealth by the hand of man, there is no cause for pessimism about Canada. And it is heartening to consider the present condition of the world. Last year, to cite only one item, Canada was the leading wheat exporting country of the world."

DEBT COMPARATIVELY LIGHT

"Have we reason to despair? If you think our burden is unreasonably heavy, compare it with those of the Dominion of Canada, the richest of the Dominions, has the lowest per capita debt of all. Canada's per capita debt in 1912 was $210.13, as compared with $359.66 for Australia; $411.30 for New Zealand; and $233.02 for South Africa. In other words, Australia's per capita debt is $199.40 more than Canada's; New Zealand's is $241.70 greater; and South Africa's $262.96 greater.

"I ask you, have we reason to despair?" he asked. "Eighty per cent of Canada's national debt is owed to our own citizens. A few years ago most of our borrowings were from other nations, but that time has definitely passed."

MONEY AT PAR

"Canada is the only country which participated in the war from 1914 to the finish whose money is practically at par in the markets of the world. The Canadian dollar is willing and proud to show its face to its American brother and in all parts of the world 'What does that mean?' It means that Canada's finances are sound, and that the world has faith in Canada. And if other countries have faith in Canada, why should there be Canadians who despair, who say our country is doomed? Why should there be whispers of death when there is no death—only the vigor of youth?"

The Minister said that the volume of Canadian trade last year was the greatest in her history. Last year the balance of trade in her favor was $144,000,000. Canada was the fifth largest exporting country in the world and recognized by the Geneva International Labor Conference as the fourth industrial country of the world.

The London Stage

By Elizabeth Montiasbert

I gave last week the bare outline of the story of "Hassan," the Oriental play that might also be named, "The Story of Hafi and Pervaneh," since the tale of the ill-fated Eastern fore-runners of Paolo and Francesca forms a second theme that gradually usurps the interest given to the confectioner-philosopher, Hassan.

My expectations were so very high that some disillusionment was almost inevitable, but I think on the whole the production of "Hassan" remains one of the most notable events of the London Theatre for many years. Destructive criticism is the easiest thing in the world; perhaps that is why to criticize is now synonymous with, to find fault, and it is quite easy to pick holes in "Hassan," aided by the fact that the booking was so heavy that the management did not see its way to extending the usual facilities to the press.

There were several minor details which might well be altered. Mr. Ainley, for instance, in spite of his really fine acting, spoke his lines as if he had no conception of their beauty. The fountain's storied beauty was not translated into reality, and at one moment looked like a soda fountain under a pink shade. Selim, the young man who betrayed Hassan, was too repulsive; a slim youth would have been better. The crowd, in the final scene of the pilgrims setting off on the Golden Road to Samarkand, were denied the simple expedient of winding their way out via the wings, but for some mysterious reason, had to go off through a trapdoor, which rather impeded their action. There were also captious people who said that the real beauty of the lines should never have been overlaid by so much spectacular effect, but I sympathized with the pit and the gallery who, when the curtain went up on the setting for the second act, broke into hearty applause. No one can cavil at the beauty of the Fokine dances or the Delius music, or the color of the swirling crimson-clad warriors against the flaming-tinted sky. They were all one part of the beauty of Flecker's prose, and have their place. Why "Hassan" was not produced long ago I cannot tell. Now that it may be seen nightly at His Majesty's, no one should leave London without seeing it, and for those who have not the opportunity there is the text published by Messrs. Heinemann.

Catherine Re-enter Miss Jose Collins at the Gaiety, with her melodious voice, magnificent frocks and adoring public, ready to applaud before she opens her lips. "Catherine" is a musical comedy of the usual Gaiety brand, except that the music is of the "Tchaikowsky" type; even the "1812" overture has been drawn in at the end.

It gives a bewildered account of the story of Catherine the First of Russia, the wife of Peter the Great, with an improved love story between the peasant beauty and Count Meshnikoff, against a background of flaming Marienlad, and crowds of dancers, soldiers, townsmen, gorgeous reception rooms, more magnificent costumes and some excellent dancing. Miss Collins has a good part for the display of her talents. She sings and dances extremely well, and if she had not chosen the crinoline of a later century, which does not suit her, she would have looked as well as she acted.

But it is useless to criticize Jose Collins as it would have been to criticize her mother in the days when everyone was humming "Tarrara Boom-de-ay."

Mr. Benson Wallis gave us a dignified and distinguished looking Peter the Great, which must have rather startled any student of that monarch's sojourn in England, for no one could imagine love society Peter ever drinking with boon companions at the Czar's Head, or being wheeled through John Evelyn's holly hedge in a wheelbarrow. Robert Michaelis sang very pleasantly the part of Meshnikoff, and Messrs. Mark Lester and Billy Leonard provided the comic element. It was a far cry from "Hassan," but it would take a good deal to shake the loyalty of the Gaiety audience, and one may safely predict that "Catherine" will stay in the Strand for many a long day.

A New Melodrama

"What Money Can Buy," the new melodrama at the Lyceum, written by Arthur Shirley and Ben Landon, is nothing if not superlative.

After the first five minutes one felt as if one had got into the land where white and black is black and black and white is white. Every time the heroine, who by the way is a ticket-of-leave woman, spurns the villain and reiterates her unalterable decision to run straight, the gallery applauds, the curtain comes down, and the band breaks into a fanfare that announces to all and sundry that virtue has again triumphed. The big theatre of the Lyceum was packed, and I think everyone went home happy.

One has often seen the exterior of a church on the stage, but I had never seen the stage set as the interior, with the congregation seated in pews with their backs to the audience and the spotlight on the person (Mr. Dennis Neill-Terry), who proceeds to preach a short sermon as if he had never worn a collar other than round.

DOUBT ABOUT AMATEUR HOCKEY ON MAINLAND

VANCOUVER, Oct. 11.—Whether there is to be any amateur hockey or not this Winter in Vancouver depends largely on the matter of the terms on which the use of ice can be secured.

At the annual meeting of the Vancouver Amateur Ice Hockey Association, held last evening, it was decided to make an effort to secure more advantageous terms from the local arena management, and a committee to interview Frank Patrick with that object in view was named. The meeting, went on record as strongly favoring the abolition of the government tax on the gate receipts of amateur games.

The Monthly Cheque
— That Never Fails

How the Money was Lost

"You see I had only a few thousand dollars left after the estate was settled—" and my brother borrowed some to help him along; of course that went and then—"

I simply had to help father with his business. he was so worried—" and I thought it best to make an investment at once. Well that failed—" and, really, if it were not for the monthly income cheque from the Canada Life I don't know how I should be getting along now."

It is all so simple and effective!

Just a few dollars set aside regularly, and the Canada Life will guarantee to your home a continuous monthly income.

What a relief to know that no matter what may happen, the monthly cheque that never fails, issued regularly by the Canada Life, will come to your home!

"Your present Life Insurance will perhaps 'clear the mortgage,' pay off the obligations of your estate, and leave something for your family, but

Consider This :

Financial problems should not be thrust upon a woman who is not used to business deals.

Therefore in addition to a "lump sum" of money, you should provide a definite income that cannot fail—

Because a weekly or monthly income is the natural thing for most people—

And a woman can keep a family together on even a small income, provided it is regular.

Moreover, the hands of unscrupulous men are always outstretched for money held by the unwary.

The Monthly Income Plan

Will solve the problem.

Only a few dollars saved and set aside from your regular earnings can be multiplied into a substantial income for your Beneficiary. You will be surprised to learn what a reasonable proposition can be made to you.

A hat of blue panne velvet, and silver face with French flowers and ostrich tip completed her attire. She carried a shower bouquet. Two maids of honor were Miss Dorothy Trawford, sister of the bride, and Miss Marion McGregor, of Nanaimo, who were dressed in simple frocks of pale pink and mauve crepe de Chine trimmed with ribbon ruffles. Mr. Markus Grimmett performed the duties of best man. During the signing of the register, Mrs. D. Edgell, cousin of the bride, sang "For You Alone," and Kenneth and Eric Alexander acted as ushers.

Doyle, also of Vancouver. Mr. and Mrs. Dinwoodie left on the afternoon boat for Portland where the honeymoon will be spent, after which they will return to Vancouver where they will make their future home.

AUTUMN BLOOMS GRACE NUPTIALS

Duncan Methodist Church Prettily
Decorated for Wedding of Popular Young Couple

DUNCAN, Oct. 11.—The local Methodist Church was the scene of a very pretty wedding this afternoon at 1:30 o'clock, when Miss Maude Eileen Auchinachie, second daughter of Mr. and Mrs. P. Auchinachie, Somenos, was united in marriage to Mr. James Leitch Maitland, only son of the late Angus Maitland, British Honduras, and the late Mrs. Edwin Jones, of Vancouver, the Rev. Lewis, pastor of the church, officiating.

The church had been artistically decorated with a profusion of gladioli, asters and greenery and autumn tints of foliage, which made a lovely setting for the bride as she entered on the arm of her father. The bride was a picture of radiant girlishness in wedding dress of white silk crepe de Chine, cut on simple lines, and wearing the traditional veil, caught in place around her head with orange blossoms. She also wore a string of handsome pearls, and carried a shower bouquet of Ophelia roses. In attendance was her sister, Miss Dolly Auchinachie, who looked pretty in a frock of pale pink silk, with picture hat to match, and carrying a bouquet of pink and white asters. The groom was attended by Mr. J. William Auchinachie, brother of the bride. Miss Monk presided at the organ.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the future home of the bride and groom, St. Julian Street, where they received the good wishes of relatives and immediate friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Maitland left on the afternoon train for Victoria, and after a short honeymoon they will take up their residence here. The bride traveled in a smart suit of navy blue with hat on suite, and wore a handsome fur, the gift of the groom. The groom's gift to the bride was a ring set with onyx and pearls, and to the groomsmen gold cuff links. The bride's gift to the groom was gold cuff links.

The many presents testified to the popularity of the young couple. Among the gifts was a handsome case of silver from Mr. and Mrs. H. P. Prevost, the bride having been an employee of Mr. H. P. Prevost for the past three and a half years, and also a silver tea service, the gift of the Hillcrest Lumber Co., the groom being accountant with that firm.

The out-of-town guests at the wedding included the groom's aunts, Mrs. Smith and Miss A. Maitland, and his stepfather, Mr. E. Jones, all of Vancouver.

were fully discussed. A great many valuable suggestions were put forward at the meeting, and judging by the list of names suggested as speakers the conference should prove a very interesting one and should solve some of the many problems which are facing the Province today. At the close of the meeting refreshments were served by the hostesses. Those present were Mrs. R. Henderson, Mrs. V. S. MacLachlan, Mrs. H. Lawrie, Mrs. W. D. Todd, Mrs. Matheson, Mrs. Raven and Mrs. Deacon.

ST. MICHAEL'S CHURCH SCENE OF WEDDING

ROYAL OAK, Oct. 11.—A popular young resident of Elk Lake district was married at St. Michael's Church, Royal Oak, on Wednesday evening, when Miss Mabel L. Green became the bride of Mr. Arthur H. Wilson, of High Park, Kendal, England. Miss Green, who is a niece of Miss Bainbridge Smith, Halliburton Road, has been a visitor from England since last year.

The church was prettily decorated for the occasion, and the bride was greatly admired in a most becoming French gown of dark brown georgette with hat on suite. After a honeymoon, to be spent in Round cities, Mr. and Mrs. Wilson will reside in Victoria.

LECTURE ON JAPAN

Dr. Knox Wright Gave Illustrated
Talk at Sidney on Beauties of Country

SIDNEY, Oct. 11.—The illustrated lecture on Japan given last night in the Wesley Hall by Dr. Knox Wright, secretary of the British and Foreign Bible Society, was most interesting. The large audience followed Dr. Wright with keenest interest, audibly exclaiming at the beauty of some of the scenes portrayed. Dr. Wright showed many of the shrines, temples and pagodas for which Japan is famous, some of which were totally destroyed by the recent earthquake. The river scenes with their pretty waterfalls and bridges were very beautiful, and Dr. Wright related some quaint legends connected with them. Altogether a most enjoyable evening was spent.

Rev. T. Hughes was chairman, commencing the evening with a short prayer and introducing Dr. Wright with a few suitable words. Dr. Wright put to the meeting for approval the selection of Rev. T. Hughes as president, and Rev. T. Griffiths as secretary of the Sidney Branch of the Bible Society, which was approved of by all present. The meeting closed by the singing of the Doxology.

Russell and M. Armstrong, Northfield. The floral tributes were numerous and beautiful. The funeral of Mrs. David Sumus took place from D. J. Jenkin's parlors yesterday afternoon at 2 o'clock to the local cemetery. The pallbearers were Messrs. D. Ritten, W. Thomas, D. Jurek, J. Tissue, C. Howater, J. Farsier. The Rev. Mr. Bolton officiated.

The death occurred in the local hospital yesterday afternoon of Alena Edna, the eight-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Jones, Northfield.

CHICAGO ROAD WINS BIG RAILWAY PRIZE

President Britton L. Budd Accepts
Award on Behalf of Line for Greatest Electric Transportation

ATLANTIC CITY, Oct. 11.—The Chicago, North Shore & Milwaukee Interurban Railway today was awarded the Charles A. Coffin Foundation Prize, consisting of $1,000 in cash and a medal contributed by the General Electric Company, for having made the greatest contribution to electric transportation during the last year. The award was made to Britton L. Budd, president of the road and president-elect of the American Electric Railway Association, at its closing convention session here today. A score of companies from various parts of the country competed. Seven accomplishments, popularizing service, gaining public good will, introducing economies through original and adapted ideas, improving construction practices, reducing accidents, improving employee management relations, and reducing new capital costs, were the basis of the award. Popularizing service, gaining public good will and improving employee relations were given major weightings by the judges, and on these the winner scored high.

Major financial accomplishments by the road include increasing its gross passenger earnings five times in seven years and its freight earnings fifteen times in five years. "We give service and tell our story," was the epitomized reason for success given by the company in its brief. The company's annual advertising appropriation is the largest of any electric railway company in the United States. Newspaper space is used liberally, along with car signs, company publications, billboards, motion pictures and other mediums.

"No matter how frequently trains may run," the company's statement says, "if they are made up of cars of obsolete type, unsightly in appearance and uncomfortable in riding qualities, they will not meet with popular favor. If the cars are good and the roadbed in bad condition, the service will not satisfy the public. If employees are untidy in appearance, careless in the manner in which they perform their work, or if they do a small favor for a passenger grudgingly and only when asked, the service is not satisfactory. If ticket agents are not ready to answer questions asked by the public relative to service, prospective customers will turn away disappointed and form a poor opinion of the company."

Catches Big Fish.—To Mr. W. C. Holt, of Deep Cove, goes the credit of landing one of the largest fish of the season to be caught in local waters. Mr. Holt was fishing in Saanich Arm when a halibut, which later proved to weigh one hundred and sixty-two pounds, was hooked. The big fish was six feet long and two feet six inches across.
